Request for Extension of Engineering STA

On August 1, WTTU lost access to its broadcast tower site. In addition, the transmitter for the station has been unable to produce the necessary power for WTTU to operate with the station's licensed facilities. Efforts to repair the transmitter have proven unsuccessful.

WTTU has obtained a new transmitter but has had problems with getting an antenna erected. WTTU retained a tower/antenna company for installation of the new transmitter and construction of a new tower, but progress has been slow. WTTU is in the process of interviewing and then retaining a new engineering firm to provide these engineering services.

Accordingly, Tennessee Technological University requests extension of the special temporary authority to operate WTTU at variance to its licensed facilities.
