

Exhibit 2

Certification of Use of Pro Forma FCC Form 316

Beasley Broadcast Group, Inc., a publicly held company, controls the licensees and stations outlined on Exhibit 12 – Attachment 1. The transferring stockholders of Beasley Broadcast Group, Inc. are George G. Beasley (76.44%) and George Beasley Grantor Retained Annuity Trust dated 11/16/99 (“Former Grantor Trust”) (2.63%).

This application requests Commission’s approval of a pro forma transfer of control of Beasley Broadcast Group, Inc. arising from the following:

1) the transfer of (i) George G. Beasley’s individual voting interest of 76.43% in Beasley Broadcast Group, Inc. and (ii) the 2.63% voting interest of the Former Grantor Trust, to George G. Beasley, as Trustee of the George G. Beasley Revocable Trust Dated May 26, 1998, as amended (“Revocable Trust”) (such transfers representing an aggregate of 79.06% of the voting interests of Beasley Broadcast Group, Inc.); and (2) the transfer of 19.91% of the voting interests of Beasley Broadcast Group, Inc. from the Revocable Trust to a new grantor trust, George G. Beasley Grantor Retained Annuity Trust dated November 18, 2002 (“New Grantor Trust”).

As a result of the above-described transfers, the Revocable Trust holds a total of 59.15% of the voting interests of Beasley Broadcast Group, Inc., the New Grantor Trust holds a total of 19.91% of the voting interests of Beasley Broadcast Group, Inc. and George G. Beasley, individually, holds .01% of the voting interests of Beasley Broadcast Group, Inc. George G. Beasley is the sole trustee of the Former Grantor Trust, the Revocable Trust and the New Grantor Trust.

The pro forma transfer of control described in this application occurred on November 18, 2002 when the shares were transferred in connection with the routine estate planning of company principals, and the need for filing the pro forma application was inadvertently overlooked. The licensee notes that the failure to file this application earlier reflects an isolated oversight on its part which is being corrected promptly and voluntarily, and that no change in the ultimate beneficial owner or control party occurred. The licensee respectfully requests that this application be granted without further action by the Commission.

Ultimate control of the licensee has not changed and therefore this request is pro forma in nature and is properly filed on FCC Form 316. Because this transaction involves an internal reorganization, no contract is being filed.
