

FCC Form 345
Assignment of FM Translator Station K210AF

EXHIBIT 10
Agreement for Transfer of Station

There is no written agreement between the assignor and assignee for the transfer of the license for FM Translator Station K210AF, Torrington, Wyoming, and no consideration is changing hands. The parties have an oral understanding that the University of Wyoming ("University") will assume the K210AF license, after FCC consent. The only asset to be transferred from the Goshen Public Radio Committee to the University is the FCC license for K210AF. There is no assignment of equipment, real property or leases, or of other rights or obligations. All of the existing translator station facility equipment was originally supplied by the assignor, the University. The University has made site arrangements at the existing site with the trustees of Eastern Wyoming College.

The parties have agreed orally to effectuate the assignment of the station license after receiving FCC consent to the assignment.
