JOINT PETITION TO DENY
AND REQUEST FOR APPROVAL OF SETTLEMENT AND GRANT OF APPLICATIONS

Radio Training Network, Inc. (hereafter “RTN”) and The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago (hereafter “MBI”), by their undersigned counsel, hereby respectfully submit this “Joint Petition To Deny and Request for Approval of Settlement and Grant of Applications” (hereafter the “Petition”).

1. On July 15, 2014, the Commission released its Memorandum Opinion And Order in Comparative Consideration of Five Groups of Mutually Exclusive Applications for Permits to Construct New Noncommercial Educational Reserved Band FM Translator Stations, FCC 14-102 (hereafter the “Order”). At paragraph 12 in the Order, FM Translator Group 28, the Commission tentatively approved the above-captioned application by RTN based on giving RTN credit for two points for diversity of ownership based on the fact the RTN application as filed in 1999 indicated that the principal community contours of the proposed FM translator station at Oldsmar, Florida, did not overlap with those of any other station in which any party to RTN held an attributable interest. That was true in 1999. However, RTN subsequently modified the facilities of its station WCIE, New Port Richey, Florida, in 2013 in a manner that resulted in the service contours of WCIE covering Oldsmar, Florida, the proposed community of license. Accordingly, RTN was not entitled to its two diversity points at the time the Commission's Order was released and should not have been awarded the two diversity points or been picked as the tentative winning applicant based on points in FM Translator Group 28. RTN by and through its undersigned counsel stipulates and agrees that this is true and correct. Thus, the Commission should modify its determination in the Order consistent with the facts noted herein and the tentative approval of the RTN application should be rescinded and the applications of RTN and Moody as amended should be granted as provided below.

2. RTN and Moody have reached a settlement whereby each applicant has amended its respective application to remove the mutual-exclusivity that exists between them. RTN has modified its proposed output channel from FM channel 217 to 220. Moody has amended its FM output channel from 217 to 215. See FCC files BNPFT-19991020AAG and BNPFT-19991020AAF. As amended, the two applications may both be approved by the Commission under its rules and policies.

3. The remaining application by Faith Pleases God Church Corporation (FPGCC) should be dismissed as inadvertently accepted by the Commission. The RTN and Moody applications were both filed on October 20, 1999, in response to an "A cut-off list" issued by the Commission on September 20, 1999. See Attachment A hereto. That cut-off list set the date of October 20, 1999, as the deadline for the filing of applications that would be in conflict with a pending application by Best Media, Inc. for channel 217 at Safety Harbor, Florida. See, FCC file BPFT-19990520TG. RTN and Moody submitted their co-channel applications in a timely manner on October 20, 1999. However, the FPGCC application was not filed until March 2, 2000, or over four (4) months after the deadline set in the A cut-off list.¹ As an untimely filed application in conflict with the Best Media, Inc. application, and those of RTN and Moody, the FPGCC should not have been accepted for filing in March of 2000 and should have been summarily dismissed by the Commission. Moreover, it should not be considered in connection with FM Translator Group 28 in this proceeding.

4. In addition, the FPGCC application must be dismissed as inconsistent with, and in violation of, the interference protection requirements of §74.1203 of the Commission's rules.² Noncommercial FM station WCIE operates on FM channel 218 at New Port Richey, Florida as a C0 facility. The current 60 dbu contour for WCIE entirely encompasses the proposed transmitter site and service area for the FPGCC FM translator which specifies operation on first adjacent FM channel 217. See Attachment B hereto³. Accordingly, the FPGCC application proposes an operation that would cause interference to the reception of WCIE in violation of the requirements of interference protection requirements of §74.1203 of the Commission's rules and must be dismissed.⁴

Wherefore, RTN and Moody respectfully request that the above-captioned application by Faith Pleases God Church Corporation be dismissed, and that the above-captioned applications by RTN and Moody be granted as a universal settlement in FM Translator Group 28.

¹ There was an "A cut-off list" issued on February 2, 2000, with a deadline of March 3, 2000. See, Report No: 2000-01. FM TRANSLATOR-B00STER APPLICATIONS READY AND AVAILABLE FOR PROCESSING. Cut-Off: March 3, 2000. However, the RTN and Moody applications were not included in this list and mutually-exclusive applications to the RTN and Moody applications were not solicited in the notice.

⁴ The RTN and Moody engineering amendments provide protection to WCIE under §74.1203.

Respectfully submitted,

Radio Training Network, Inc.
