The Clovis Seventh Day Adventist church is a non-profit tax exempt organization that has been actively involved in Clovis, New Mexico since 1911. Our education process includes instructing the community in the truth of the Bible, and promoting a healthy life style. Our main avenue of instruction is public evangelism. Since evangelism is by nature, expensive, we are limited in how much we can do. With a Low Power FM station, we will be able to present the Bible truths every day.

Programming will not originate locally, but will be re-broadcasted programs written and produced by a professional radio company. Their web site is www.3ABN.org. The programming provided by them is 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, and is a mixture of sermons, evangelism series, healthy cooking, music and healthy lifestyle.

Our tax exempt status is provided thru our parent organization, The Texico Conference of Seventh Day Adventists, under the laws of the state of New Mexico.
