

LICENSEE'S EXHIBIT 9

Adverse Findings

On March 15, 2006, the Media Bureau admonished Tribune Television New Orleans, Inc., licensee of WNOL-TV, New Orleans, Louisiana ("WNOL"), for violating the Commission's rules limiting the amount of commercial matter that may be aired during children's programming. See Letter from Barbara A. Kreisman, Chief, Video Division, Media Bureau, Federal Communications Commission, to Tribune Television New Orleans, Inc., DA 06-584 (released Mar. 15, 2006). Tribune Television New Orleans, Inc. is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Tribune Broadcasting Company, which in turn, is wholly-owned by Tribune Company.

In its application for renewal of license, WNOL stated that between February 2, 2000 and February 1, 2005, there were three instances where the station exceeded the limits on commercial matter during children's programming. The Commission granted the station's renewal application and took no further action.

On March 15, 2006, the Media Bureau issued a letter to Tribune Television New Orleans, Inc., licensee of WGNO(TV), New Orleans, Louisiana ("WGNO") advising WGNO that no action was warranted in connection with the de minimus violations of the Commission's rules limiting the amount of commercial matter that may be aired during children's programming reported in its license renewal application. See Letter from Barbara A. Kreisman, Chief, Video Division, Media Bureau, Federal Communications Commission, to Tribune Television New Orleans, Inc., DA 06-581 (released Mar. 15, 2006). In its application for renewal of license, WGNO stated that during the license term, there were two instances where the station exceeded the limits on commercial matter during children's programming.

WGNO's license renewal application remains pending.
