GE and NBC Universal, Inc. (“NBCU”) indirectly hold a shared 32.7 percent voting interest in ValueVision Media, Inc. (“ValueVision”), licensee (through subsidiaries) of television station WWDP(TV), Norwell, Massachusetts (FIN 23671). GE/NBCU neither has nor exercises control of ValueVision by virtue of this ownership interest.¹

General Electric Capital Corporation (“GECC”), an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of GE, now holds debt and non-voting equity constituting 36.41 percent of the value of American Community Newspapers (“ACN”), following ACN’s emergence from a bankruptcy proceeding in which GECC’s debt was converted to non-voting equity. ACN owns two small daily newspapers in the Dallas-Fort Worth, Texas market: the Plano Star Courier, published in Plano, Texas, and the McKinney Courier-Gazette, published in McKinney, Texas.² On October 22,

² Estimated daily circulation at the Plano Star Courier for 2008 was 4700 copies, representing a 0.7 percent share of the Dallas-Fort Worth newspaper market. The McKinney Courier-Gazette had an estimated daily circulation of 5900 copies in 2008, representing a 0.8 percent share of the Dallas-Fort Worth newspaper market. Both 2009, SVO, the licensee of KXAS-TV, Fort Worth, Texas (FIN 49330) (“KXAS-TV”), amended its pending renewal application to report that the contour of KXAS-TV encompasses the entire community of publication of the ACN daily papers. GECC’s debt and equity interest in ACN exceed 33 percent of ACN’s total asset value. As a result, these interests are now attributable under the FCC’s equity and/or debt plus (“EDP”) rule due to the decline in the value of ACN assets and the conversion of a portion of GECC’s loans to equity. The amendment noted that the Commission affords parties a reasonable time to come into compliance with any ownership restrictions made applicable as a result of a change in attributable status due to unforeseen circumstances.³ The amendment further advises the Commission that, given the current economic climate, a reasonable time is likely to be more than one year.

GECC also has provided a credit facility to Coast Radio Company, Inc. (“Coast”), which accounts for more than 33 percent of the total asset value of Coast. Coast owns and operates, through subsidiaries, three radio stations in the San Francisco, California market: KKDV(FM), Walnut Creek, California (FIN 36032); KKIQ(FM), Livermore, California (FIN 67818); and KUIC(FM), Vacaville, California (FIN 54261). LicenseCo owns and controls two television stations assigned to the San Francisco Designated Market Area. As a result, GE is attributed with two TV stations and three FM stations in the relevant market. Because there are more than 10 independent media voices in the San Francisco market, and because the common ownership of the three FM stations is permissible under the applicable local radio ownership rule, GE’s combined interests in this market comply fully with the radio-television cross-ownership rule.⁴

Duncan Ebersol, Executive Vice President and a Director of NBCU, an indirect subsidiary of GE, has an attributable interest in the broadcast stations licensed to GE subsidiaries. Mr. Ebersol and his spouse, Susan Saint James, each owns 23.32 percent of the outstanding stock of Local Girls and Boys Broadcasting Corporation (“LGBBC”). LGBBC is the licensee of a 3,000 watt FM station, WZBG(FM), Litchfield, Connecticut (FIN 37906). Mr. Ebersol is a Director and Vice President of LGBBC. Ms. Saint James is a Director of LGBBC. Mr. Ebersol is not “actively” involved in the management or operations of LGBBC.

Susan Hockfield, a Director of GE, is the President of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (“MIT”). Technology Broadcasting Corporation (“TBC”), a separate corporation, operates noncommercial educational station WMBR(FM), Cambridge, Massachusetts (FIN 64683) with the participation of MIT students. MIT has the right to appoint TBC’s board of directors, but MIT is not otherwise a shareholder or other interest holder in TBC. No FCC ownership limit applies to noncommercial educational stations.

Jeffrey R. Immelt, the CEO and Chairman of GE, is on the board of trustees of Dartmouth College (“Dartmouth”). Dartmouth is the licensee of commercial radio stations WDCR(AM), Hanover, New Hampshire (FIN 68257) and WFRD(FM), Hanover, New publications are currently contemplating a reduction in the frequency of their publication due to declining revenues and market share.

³ GECC monitors and tracks its debt and equity interests so that in the event any interests become attributable under the EDP rule, those interests can be reported.

⁴ See also Exhibit 19 to this application.

Hampshire (FIN 68281). The community of Hanover is not encompassed by the contours of any of the subject television stations.

David L. Cohen, Executive Vice President of Comcast Corporation, is the Chairman of the Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania, which is the licensee of WXPB, a noncommercial educational FM station in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. No FCC ownership limit applies to noncommercial educational stations.
