

EDUCATIONAL MISSION OF THE WOODS & WATERS LAND TRUST

Woods & Waters Land Trust was incorporated on October 6, 2009 in the state of Kentucky.

WWLT shall strive to educate the public about the natural lands of Kentucky and the importance of their protection and stewardship.

The proposed low power FM station will advance the educational mission of Woods & Waters Land Trust by broadcasting:

- sustainability information
- links to information on land protection and stewardship
- interviews with local land protection advocates and landowners
- informational programming on the natural resources of our watershed
- programming on sustainable land use and land use issues
- publicity about upcoming events in the community
- traditional music, history and performance

Our initial programming schedule will air programming between the hours of 6am and 10pm, 7 days a week and will be simulcast via our web site. Programming will also be available for archival listening on the web site.
