

Exhibit 5

The applicant has answered 4.b and 4.c in the affirmative. The electronic filing system would not accept the instant application unless the applicant provided answers to 4.b and 4.c. However, the applicant believes that answers to these questions are not required for the purposes of filing the instant application. See Prometheus Radio Project. v. Federal Communications Commission, Nos. 03-3388 et al. (3rd Cir. 2004). Should Commission Staff believe that responses are required, the applicant will be happy to provide responses without the instant qualification.
