

MEDIA REFORM Radio Programming - Sheet1

	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday	Sunday
9-10AM	Good Morning News Hour- featuring local, state and regional news including the local weather forecast, upcoming local events and more.	Good Morning News Hour- featuring local, state and regional news including the local weather forecast, upcoming local events and more.	Good Morning News Hour- featuring local, state and regional news including the local weather forecast, upcoming local events and more.	Good Morning News Hour- featuring local, state and regional news including the local weather forecast, upcoming local events and more.	Good Morning News Hour- featuring local, state and regional news including the local weather forecast, upcoming local events and more.	Good Morning News Hour- featuring local, state and regional news including the local weather forecast, upcoming local events and more.	Good Morning News Hour- featuring local, state and regional news including the local weather forecast, upcoming local events and more.
10-11AM	Book Talk- This show will feature a roundup of what local bookclubs are reading and interview the participants on topics of interest concerning the book. Audience members can read the book and participate via the radio if they cannot physically make the book club.	The Hostel Life- Interviews with local travelers from Charleston's Notso Hostel will be featured. The focus will be on where they are from, how they arrived to the holy city, their thoughts and perspectives on the US, the state and the city from an outside travelers perspective.	As Read In...- Local reporters are invited to talk about the newspaper stories they have covered or read about that they find the most outrageous, entertaining and amazing.	Rolling On The River - Ecotours of the lowcountry given by Ian Sanchez. Follow Ian as he kayaks down the ACE basin and gives listeners and educational and interested history of the area as well as information about local wildlife and plants.	Healthy Eating and Living - It all starts with the delicious local food. Local vegan chefs educated listeners about healthy ways of preparing delicious meals using the freshest ingredients.	Local Sports Report - Get all the H.S. scores and listen to the coaches and fans talk about football, baseball, volleyball, soccer, lacrosse, and basketball.	The Farmers Market Live!- Featuring local musicians playing at the farmers market; this show will interview local farmers, local vendors, and customers at the market. In addition, a report on what is in season and what is new in the world of our local farming economy will be presented.
11-12AM	Immigration Nation- This show will feature a discussion about immigration with guest interviews, real life experiences, the pros and cons to the issue, news from our Congress about the issue and more.	World Music Local Perspective- Music educators introduce their favorite Non-Western and tribal music to Charleston listeners.	Good News Hour- inspirational and heartwarming stories from around the globe and our lowcountry backyard.	Buddy Brewing- brewmasters talk specilaty beer, new artisanal trends, fun and unusal recipes all with a message to drink responsibly.	OSU- Means to persevere while pushing onself forward. This show will describe in detail the Zen of Brazilian Jiu Jitsu. Local teachers will come and talk about the philosophy of discipline, the art of practice and the benefits of Jiu Jitsu in everyday life.	Jazz Guitar- hosted by Lee Barbour, former jazz faculty at the College of Charleston. The show will feauture the newest and latest in jazz guitar recordings, lessons and more. Including interviews and hosts from around the country.	The Farmers Market Live!- Featuring local musicians playing at the farmers market; this show will interview local farmers, local vendors, and customers at the market. In addition, a report on what is in season and what is new in the world of our local farming economy will be presented.
12-1PM	Behind The Scenes- Featuring the Stingrays, Charleston Battery and Riverdogs team members with news, interviews, upcoming games and more.	Treehouse Recording- Local and Live Music from Treehouse Recording Studio featuring the artist that is in the studio along with fellow bandmembers.	The Frugal Traveler - Deals, Tips and Advice from a seasoned traveler and his guests. Featured local destinations will inspire locals to explore their city as if they were from out of town. Regional areas will be highlighted as well.	Your Legal Eagles- legal talk, not legal advice from local attorneys. The show will teach listeners about their rights and how to protect themselves.	Lowcountry Surf Rat- music that defines the current surf culture. Music from The Surf Bar and other similar establishments on Folly Beach will be featured.	Could That Work?- a program to educate listeners about advances in health, science and construction and possible lessons we can draw from these advances to use in our own lives.	Blue Heron Hour- This show will educate the public about the local birds in the area, where to see them, how to help an injured bird if found and more. The Caw Caw Interpretive Center and the Birds of Prey Research Center will be featured with interews from the staff there.
1-2PM	Our Democracy Now- A response and discussion to the topics presented in Democracy Now! for that day.	Our Democracy Now- A response and discussion to the topics presented in Democracy Now! for that day.	Our Democracy Now- A response and discussion to the topics presented in Democracy Now! for that day.	Our Democracy Now- A response and discussion to the topics presented in Democracy Now! for that day.	Our Democracy Now- A response and discussion to the topics presented in Democracy Now! for that day.	Tradiciones musicales del mundo hispano - A show to educate the community about local Hispanic music, Hispanic culture, news, current events and issues.	Kimchi and Kombucha- Educating the public about fermentation through the use of humor and facts, this show will feature local home and professional chefs that will teach about fermentation at home, benefits and more.

MEDIA REFORM Radio Programming - Sheet1

2-3PM	Afro Roots - a musical presentation with educational insights on African music. The history of Gullah culture, language and music will be explored in this show.	Leave Us A Message - Call our station's answering machine and tell us something wise and wonderful that will inspire and educate. We will edit the best messages and play them on the air	Everything Runs Downstream- a program to educate listeners about the rivers, streams and marshes of the Lowcountry and the importance of coastal conservation. Featuring the work of Cryus Buffum and his nonprofit that tests our local waters for pollutants. This show will educate the public about what is in our water stream and how it is all interconnected.	Non-Violent Communication- this show will feature the aspects of non-violent communication, the rules, how to apply them to ones life and educate the public on the the benefits it can have on ones life. Featued guests and teachers will be on the show demonstrating the techniques.	What's So Funny About Peace, Love and Understanding?- This show will feature the promotion of peaceful interaction and educate the public with tools for living together. Featuring interviews from pastors, family counselors and mediators, this show will be a nonsectarian program the promotes compassion and love.	Ayurveda and Chanting- This show will look at health from an Eastern Perspective and educate listeners about the different modalities of healing. Aryuvedic practioners will be featured and chanting techniques to calm the mind will start and end the show.	We Can All Just Get Along - nonsectarian, nonpartisan discussion of issues that affect our listeners in a respectful atomosphere, with topics suggested by listeners and/or grabbing headlines.
3-4PM	Without Advertising- This show will educate the public about the effects of advertising on our everyday lives. Stories and news from magazines that do not accept advertising such as The Sun and AdBusters will be featured.	Classic Forever- Local classical and chamber music with featured local artists explaining the history of the pieces being played and more.	Sustainability Science for Nonscientists - The science of building a sustainable world from agriculture to manufacturing to community building	Working Title - local students studying radio production at Trident Tech, The College of Charleston and Charleston Southern Univerity produce a yet "to be named" weekly radio program - supervised by their faculty.	Electronica Hour- This show will educate the public on electronic music, new happenings in the world of electronica, and will feature local musicians playing electronic music as well as regional and national talent.	Vet Advice- Common pet problems and solutions from Doug Berger from All Creatures Veterinarian. Dr. Berger will educate the community about acupunctue for animals, holistic nutrition for pets and more.	Carolina Gospel and Jazz- This show will educate listeners on the history of gospel and jazz and feature local artists who will perform originals and standards on the show.
4-5M	The Daily Report- End the workday with a show that reviews the days headlines. Listeners will be educated on current events, world affairs, local and regional news and more.	The Daily Report- End the workday with a show that reviews the days headlines. Listeners will be educated on current events, world affairs, local and regional news and more.	The Daily Report- End the workday with a show that reviews the days headlines. Listeners will be educated on current events, world affairs, local and regional news and more.	The Daily Report- End the workday with a show that reviews the days headlines. Listeners will be educated on current events, world affairs, local and regional news and more.	The Daily Report- End the workday with a show that reviews the days headlines. Listeners will be educated on current events, world affairs, local and regional news and more.	The Daily Report- End the workday with a show that reviews the days headlines. Listeners will be educated on current events, world affairs, local and regional news and more.	The Daily Report- End the workday with a show that reviews the days headlines. Listeners will be educated on current events, world affairs, local and regional news and more.