

HISTORY OF TRANSFER

American Educational Broadcasting, Inc. ("AEB") is a non-stock, not-for-profit organization, which is the licensee of non-commercial educational broadcast stations. It is governed by a board of three directors. The initial directors were Carl J. Auel, Scott L. Smith and Robert A. Jones. While not officers or directors, the wives of the initial directors took part in activities of AEB.

Scott L. Smith, an original director, died February 19, 2003. His widow, Beverly M. Smith, was elected by the remaining board members to serve as a director. At that point, the board was composed of three directors, each with one vote. Robert A. Jones, another original director, died May 6, 2008. Upon his death, the board was composed of two members, each with one vote. One of those two members, Mr. Auel, had been passed upon in connection with AEB in a long-form application. (See BPED-19960118MH, granted January 21, 2003) The other, Mrs. Smith, had not. Consequently, fifty percent of the board's vote, or negative control, was held by a person, Mrs. Smith, who had not been passed upon in connection with AEB in a long form application.

Following the death of Mr. Jones, the remaining board members, Mr. Auel and Mrs. Smith, elected his widow, Patricia A. Jones, to AEB's board. That board is composed now of three persons, Mr. Auel, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Jones, each with an equal vote.

Information for Robert A. Jones and Patricia A. Jones is given in Section II, Questions 2 and 3, and Section IV, Questions 2 and 3, respectively. Information for Carl J. Auel, Scott L.
