

The map displays the Central Valley of California, bounded by latitude 36°N to 42°N and longitude 120°W to 123°W. A prominent green line runs north-south through the center of the valley. County boundaries are shown as thin black lines, and major cities are marked with black dots. The map includes a coordinate grid with latitude and longitude values. Major cities labeled include Fresno, Madera, Merced, and various smaller towns. The green line runs roughly north-south through the center of the valley.

 State Borders
 City Borders
 Lat/Lon Grid