

Holston Valley Broadcasting Corporation
Request for STA to Operate from Bays Mountain
February 7, 2007
Exhibit 22

Holston Valley Broadcasting Corporation ("Holston") requests Special Temporary Authority ("STA") to relocate the transmitter for LPTV station WKTP-LP, Gate City, etc., Virginia from a site on Clinch Mountain in Virginia to a site on Bays Mountain in Tennessee; to change the antenna used by the station; and to increase the effective radiated power of the station as stated in the attached Engineering Statement.

The Commission granted Holston the authority to remain silent on October 17, 2006, due to an unreliable electrical power supply at the station's current transmitter site. See BLSTA-20061013ACT. The relocation of WKTP-LP's transmitter site to Bays Mountain resolves the station's electrical problem. The facilities proposed in this request will allow Holston to quickly bring WKTP-LP back on the air and to temporarily operate the station until Holston can construct permanent facilities at the Bays Mountain site.

Holston is simultaneously filing an application for a minor change to authorize permanent facilities for WKTP-LP on Bays Mountain. The minor change application proposes increased facilities for WKTP-LP at this site.
