SUMMARY

Voice for New Jersey (V NJ), an affiliation organized to promote better broadcast media coverage in New Jersey, is filing this petition to deny the renewal of station license for WWOR(TV). The petition is based on WWOR's failure to meet the needs of its community of license. Specifically, WWOR has failed to provide adequate news coverage of world news, national news, and state and local news in its community of license. WWOR has additionally failed to honor the specific obligations imposed on the station by the Federal Communications Commission. These obligations were established in recognition of WWOR's status as the only commercial VHF station licensed in the State of New Jersey, and the significant lack of television coverage dedicated to the densely populated northern New Jersey market.

At the inception of the past licensing period, each of its peers in the New York media market offered at least three times more news and public affairs programming than WWOR. With subsequent programming reductions, WWOR's news and public affairs programming is now little more than 5% of its peer group average. Also unlike its peers, WWOR now offers its viewers no coverage of world news or national news. This fact alone constitutes an appalling breach of WWOR's public interest obligations.

In 2013, WWOR eliminated its news division and cancelled its nightly newscast. The evening news show's replacement, a "news magazine" styled in the manner of TMZ, can hardly be deemed a news program at all. V NJ's analysis demonstrates that much of the programming that WWOR asserts to be responsive to community issues is nothing of the sort; we have also identified a great number of issues-responsive stories that the station ignores. Accordingly, renewal of the WWOR license is not in the public interest.

PETITION TO DENY RENEWAL

Pursuant to Section 309(d)(1) of the Communications Act, Voice for New Jersey (VNJ)¹ respectfully submits this petition to deny renewal of the above captioned application. As is demonstrated below, grant of this application is prima facie inconsistent with the public interest standard set forth in Section 309(a) of the Communications Act. Accordingly, the application of WWOR should be designated for hearing.

INTRODUCTION

This petition challenges the renewal of the station license for the commercial television station WWOR(TV) (hereinafter “WWOR”), licensed in the state of New Jersey. The basis of this challenge is that this station has failed to meet the needs of its community of license and, therefore, that renewal of its license would not serve the public interest. Specifically, as documented below, this station has failed to provide adequate coverage of world, national, state, and local news. Such coverage is vital to the station’s community of license.

¹ Attachment A hereto is the declaration of Donna Sandorse, which identifies VNJ’s interest in this application. VNJ is a working group that was created to promote a responsive and responsible public-interest media environment in New Jersey.

The current policies relating to license renewals were adopted in 1984. At that time, the Commission eliminated programming guidelines as to quantities of news and public affairs programming which would be presumed to constitute service in the public interest. However, in so doing, the Commission stressed that "the basic responsibility to contribute to the overall discussion of issues confronting the community is a non-delegable duty for which each licensee will be held individually accountable."

Deregulation of Radio, 98 FCC 1075 (1984).

Beyond the normal obligations of any station to serve its community of license, Congress and the FCC have specifically imposed special obligations on WWOR to meet the needs of northern New Jersey. As the Commission stated in approving the move of Channel 9 from New York to Secaucus, [W]e expect [WWOR-TV] to perform a higher degree of service to its Grade B coverage area than is normally required of a broadcast licensee. At renewal time, [WWOR-TV] will be judged by how it has met the obligation to serve the greater service needs of Northern New Jersey, which we view as broader than the specific needs of Secaucus. Channel 9 Reallocation (WOR-TV), 53 RR2d 469, 471 (1983).

Although this petition is based solely on WWOR's failure to properly serve its community of license, VNJ is well aware that WWOR's owner, Fox Television Stations, Inc. has long been in violation of the Commission's Newspaper/Broadcast Cross-Ownership (NBCO) rule. The Office of Communication, Inc. of the United Church of Christ (UCC) and Rainbow/PUSH Coalition (RPC) have filed a separate Petition to Deny based on these NCBO violations; VNJ fully supports the UCC/RPC petition.

WWOR's NEWS & PUBLIC AFFAIRS BROADCAST SCHEDULE IS INSUFFICIENT TO MEET ITS PUBLIC INTEREST OBLIGATIONS

At the inception of the licensing period, the scant amount of WWOR airtime allocated to news and public affairs programming was already troubling, and was woefully inferior to that of the station's peer group. WWOR's broadcast schedule then provided for a one hour evening news broadcast seven days a week, and two half-hour public affairs programs which aired on Sunday afternoons. With only eight hours of dedicated news and public affairs programming each week, WWOR fell far short of its peer group average.

The worst of WWOR's peers in the New York media market (its sister station WNYW), then offered three times more news coverage than WWOR. The remainder of the station's peer group averaged over five hours of news coverage per day—more than five times the volume of news coverage then offered by WWOR².

As VNJ has repeatedly pointed out to the Commission over the course of this past licensing period³, WWOR's news and public affairs broadcast schedule has only gotten worse. In July, 2009, WWOR slashed staffing at its Secaucus headquarters and reduced the airtime of its news and public affairs programming by more than half. The airtime of the station's nightly newscast was cut to one-half hour, and weekend news coverage was eliminated. WWOR also eliminated one of its two Sunday public affairs programs; the airtime for public affairs programming was thus reduced to one-half hour per week. With these cuts, the airtime of WWOR’s news and public affairs programming fell to less than 10% of its peer group average⁴.

³ See Letter & Exhibit to Chairman Julius Genachowski dated November 27, 2009 from Donna Sandorse, Voice for New Jersey, MB Docket No. 07-260; Letter to Acting Chairwoman Mignon Clyburn dated July 10, 2013 from Charles Lovey, Voice for New Jersey, MB Docket No. 07-260

Even after these draconian cuts, and with the renewal of its broadcast license still under review, WWOR incredibly undertook to further reduce its service in July, 2013. At that time the station completely disbanded its news division and eliminated its evening newscast altogether. WWOR’s news broadcast was replaced by Chasing New Jersey, a self-described “news magazine” styled in the manner of the tabloid gossip show TMZ.

In view of these changes, VNJ undertook an analysis of WWOR’s current news and public affairs programming⁵. Obviously, with the elimination of its nightly newscast, there is no traditional news programming on WWOR. To properly account for the station’s Chasing program, it is necessary to account for similar “news magazine” offerings by WWOR’s peer group. (Note that in 2014, the focus and content of Chasing New Jersey was revised and the program renamed “Chasing” and more recently “Chasing News.” For the sake of simplicity, we will use “Chasing” to refer collectively to the various iterations of this program, unless otherwise specified).

The analysis shows that each week WWOR’s peers average more than 33 hours of “straight” news programming, more than 21 hours of news magazines, and more than 1 hour of public affairs programming. These offerings constitute, on average, a total of 56 hours of programming that similarly situated stations provide in the service of their public interest obligations. WWOR’s paltry three hours of news and public affairs programming constitutes little more than 5% of this average. This fact alone gives rise to serious questions as to WWOR’s performance in meeting its public interest obligations.

WWOR PROVIDES ITS AUDIENCE WITH NO COVERAGE OF WORLD NEWS OR NATIONAL NEWS

VNJ undertook an extensive analysis of two of WWOR's quarterly Issues of Concern and Significant Programming Reports (hereinafter "I/P Reports") and also viewed and analyzed the station's Chasing program over a recent two week period⁶. More than 600 individual Chasing stories, comprising more than 24 total hours of airtime, were reviewed in the course of this analysis. In all of this programming, there were no stories relating to world news or national news. Indeed, a review of WWOR's I/P Reports indicates that the station completely abandoned such programming when it disbanded its news division and ceased its nightly newscast in 2013.

All of WWOR's peer stations provide extensive coverage of world and national news-- programming which is at the heart of a station's obligation to inform and promote discussion of relevant issues in its community of license. Indeed it is difficult to imagine that there is any similarly situated station in the nation (i.e. a commercial television station having a channel designation corresponding to the former VHF band and broadcasting to a service area of several million people) that would not provide such programming. WWOR's failure to provide its audience with any coverage of world and national news is an appalling breach of its public interest obligations.

Throughout the station's past license term, WWOR's owner/operator Fox Television Stations, Inc ("Fox") has submitted filings to the Commission providing counterfeit analyses and false comparisons in an effort to justify the shortcomings of WWOR's programming. In 2009, Fox stated that "WWOR-TV carries more news than other similarly situated stations. Nationally, over 60 percent of stations ranked fifth or below in a market provide no local news at all.⁷,

This comparison is grossly and deliberately misleading. As VNJ has previously related to the Commission:⁸

WWOR is not in an average media market, or even in an average market having five or more television stations. WWOR is a presence in the New York media market-- the largest and most lucrative market in the country. Given the unparalleled power of this market to generate both viewers and advertising revenue, it is far more reasonable to analyze WWOR against its New York peers as opposed to Fox's self-serving selection of stations.

Fox has also sought to portray WWOR's programming in a favorable light by comparing it to other television stations licensed in New Jersey⁹. (Indeed, in its recent Order granting renewal of the WWOR station license in this just-completed licensing period¹⁰, the Commission's Media Bureau relied on just such a comparison, despite the fact that such treatment was both legally improper and factually incorrect.)¹¹

We have made this point before¹² but it bears repeating here-- the appropriate peer group by which to measure WWOR's performance consists of those other commercial television stations in the New York media market with channel designations in the former VHF band.

There is both historical and practical significance to analyzing WWOR vis-à-vis this peer group. At the time of the legislation enabling the relocation of WWOR's broadcast license in 1982, there were already a number of UHF broadcasters operating in New Jersey. However, the number of people watching these stations, and the quality and social impact of their programming, were both dwarfed by the larger and more influential VHF stations that were the mainstay of most television viewers in northern New Jersey. All of these VHF stations were licensed in New York City. It was precisely this imbalance that the Commission sought to address when it approved the relocation of the WWOR station license.

Even now, after the broad implementation of cable and satellite service and the adaptation of DTV in the licensing period under review, the distinction of a channel assignment corresponding to the former VHF band remains extremely strong. Viewers demand access to these mainstream channels, and cable and satellite providers pay heavily for the rights to carry their programming. In contrast, the small stations formerly licensed in the UHF spectrum still have far less market penetration, still generate much less revenue, and typically specialize in niche segments (religious and/or foreign-language programming). Accordingly the market differentiation between WWOR and other New Jersey-licensed stations remains, and comparison of the two categories of stations remains completely inapposite.

The Commission should be well aware of all of this. In its recent Order, the Commission's Media Bureau even recites the specific language of the Communications Act which provided for WWOR's relocation: "Section 331 requires the Commission to reallocate a VHF commercial television station to a community within a state that does not have such a station, upon notification from a licensee that it agrees to the reallocation." [Emphasis added].¹³

WWOR'S CHASING HAS LARGELY REPLACED LEGITIMATE LOCAL NEWS COVERAGE WITH TABLOID FODDER

Unsurprisingly, given WWOR's abandonment of world and national news coverage and the program's generally low production values, viewership of Chasing New Jersey fell far below the already-abysmal ratings for WWOR's prior evening newscast. During the May, 2014 sweeps only 11,000 viewers tuned in per Nielson survey results, a figure 62% lower than WWOR's traditional newscast garnered in the prior year in the identical time slot.¹⁴

While not directly germane to the station's performance with respect to its public interest obligations, these ratings suggest, at minimum, that precious few of the five million people in the station's northern New Jersey service area find Chasing to be a satisfactory source for news and information.

Chasing's dreadful Nielson results may also have served as an impetus for WWOR management to modify the program's content-- and not in a way that serves the public interest. As noted previously, the title of program morphed throughout 2014 from Chasing New Jersey to simply Chasing and more recently to Chasing News. With each of these changes, the program focused less and less on New Jersey news and information, and increasingly on the sort of tabloid fodder more typically associated with the show's stylistic role model-- TMZ.

These assertions are borne out by an analysis of WWOR's most current I/P Report at the time of this writing (1st quarter 2015) as compared with the I/P Report for the same period one year prior, when Chasing New Jersey still maintained its original focus. The results of this analysis are telling.

In its I/P Reports, WWOR sets forth the issues that it seeks to address in broad categories such as Government/Politics, Community, Economy, Children/Youth, and the like. Unsurprisingly, many of the "hard" news stories appearing on Chasing fall into the Government/Politics category, while "softer" human interest stories are generally categorized as "Community." For the first quarter of 2014, WWOR listed 240 Chasing stories in its I/P Report. Of these 83 stories related primarily to "Government/Politics" (35%), while 123 stories related primarily to "Community" (51%). (Some listings in the I/P Reports indicated that stories were responsive to multiple issues. For purposes of VNJ's analysis, only the primary category was considered). Only 34 stories related primarily to any of the other issues identified by WWOR management).

Many of the 2014 stories were highly recursive and contributed little to the discussion of community issues. For example, five Chasing "Homeland Security" stories were cited in the I/P report-- all of these related to security measures undertaken at the Super Bowl held in Giants Stadium. (These aired in addition to eight other Chasing Super Bowl stories listed in the I/P Report). The Report also listed four Chasing stories covering road potholes, and eight stories about a teenager who sued her parents for college tuition support. Despite all of this, the first quarter 2014 I/P Report reflects a non-trivial amount of programming that can reasonably be construed as responsive to community issues.

The picture for the first quarter of 2015 is dramatically different. WWOR's first quarter 2015 I/P Report lists only 208 Chasing stories that are responsive to community issues-- a decrease of 13% from the prior period. Further, Chasing's focus on the softer "Community" issues expanded while "hard news" stories related to Government/Politics plummeted. The I/P Report reflects 151 "Community" stories, which comprise 73% of the Chasing stories listed. Meanwhile, only 35 Chasing stories relating primarily to Government/Politics were listed (17%), a decline of nearly 58% from the prior period.

To be sure, VNJ recognizes that an analysis based solely on WWOR's issues categories may lead to erroneous conclusions. Some stories relating primarily to "Community" may serve to provide substantial news and information to the viewing audience, while some "Government/Politics" topics may be sensationalistic or trivial. Accordingly, VNJ set out to categorize each of the stories contained in the two I/P Reports based on the Reports' (rather detailed) story descriptions. The results of this analysis are even more revealing.

Based on the I/P Report descriptions, VNJ classified each of the stories listed into one of three categories. Stories were categorized as "News" if their substance relates primarily to topics of social concern or public policy. Stories categorized as "Police Blotter" relate to stories centered around police, fire department, EMT, or similar activities where the story content is primarily sensationalistic and event-driven (i.e house fires, automobile accidents, citizen arrests) rather than substantive matters of policy (i.e. fire prevention, traffic safety, police methodology, etc.). Finally, stories were characterized as “Human Interest / Tabloid” if they lacked substantive social or public policy content and had as their primary appeal an emotional engagement with an individual or group, or which were designed primarily to titillate the viewer with sensationalistic or lurid content or celebrity gossip.

To be sure, the categorization of any given story is subjective and may be subject to debate. Nonetheless the results of the VNJ analysis demonstrate a wholesale reduction in the serious news programming offered by WWOR-- a reduction of several orders of magnitude. The results of this analysis are shown in Exhibits F and G , and are summarized in the table below:

Comparative Analysis of News Coverage Listed in WWOR I/P Reports

| Category | 1st Quarter 2014 | | 1st Quarter 2015 | |
|--------------------------|------------------------------|-------------------------------|------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| | Number of Stories | Airtime of Stories | Number of Stories | Airtime of Stories |
| News | 170 70.8% | 9 hr 26 min 75.7% | 90 43.3% | 3 hr 57 min 42.3% |
| Police Blotter | 6 2.5% | 0 hr 18 min 2.3% | 25 12.0% | 1 hr 06 min 11.7% |
| Human Interest / Tabloid | 64 26.7% | 2 hr 45 min 22.0% | 93 44.7% | 4 hr 18 min 46.0% |
| TOTALS | 240 | 12 hr 29 min | 208 | 9 hr 21 min |

First, the change from Chasing New Jersey to Chasing News has brought with it an obvious decrease in the amount of programming that WWOR lists in its I/P Reports. While the number of responsive stories listed in the I/P Reports has decreased by 13%, the airtime allocated to these stories has fallen by more than 25%. Even more telling is change in the program's tenor from serious news reporting to police blotter sensationalism and tabloid journalism.

In the first quarter of 2014, more than 75% of Chasing's responsive stories were dedicated to "hard" news (by airtime). The program offered minimal Police Blotter content, and Human Interest / Tabloid stories comprised less than a quarter of the show's I/P Report listings.

These results changed dramatically in the first quarter of 2015, as well over half of the news stories listed in the I/P Report were Police Blotter or Human Interest / Tabloid content. The number of hard news stories declined by 47%, and the airtime of these stories by a shocking 58%. With less than four hours of responsive "hard" news stories listed in the first quarter 2015 I/P Report, WWOR offered well under three minutes per day of such programming to its viewers.

The Commission has been clear that every television station is obligated to offer significant news, public affairs, and other programming "that specifically treats the important issues facing its community." By this standard, many of the stories listed in WWOR's I/P Reports are not responsive to community issues at all. Among the 64 "Human Interest/Tabloid" and six "Police Blotter" stories listed in the I/P Report for the first quarter of 2014, several examples are prominent. It is hard to imagine that Chasing's four stories about a girl who sued her parents for college tuition were particularly informative as to "Children/Youth" issues (nor do we think that a fifth story on the topic significantly enhanced the community's dialogue about "Government/Politics"). We also have difficulty understanding how a teen girl's tweet about her high school principal was issues-responsive; stories about a Jersey City policeman who appeared on “Survivor, three new bear cubs at a theme park, a makeover for one of the “Real Housewives of New Jersey”, and a “weather dog” at a local animal shelter are similarly suspect. The results reflected in the I/P Report for the first quarter of 2015 are even worse. WWOR’s management would apparently have us believe that six stories about household pets, three stories about individuals with (common) diseases, and four stories about a man whose truck fell through the ice when he attempted to drive over a frozen river somehow constitute relevant and responsive coverage of community issues. Additional stories on the Long Island Railroad’s Lost and Found department, a singer in a cover band who was sued for being “too unattractive,” an oddly decorated home in Philadelphia and a 17 year-old girl who sent pro-Nazi pictures on social media are similarly suspect.

We wish to be very clear on one point-- VNJ is not suggesting that such stories are in any way “wrong” or that WWOR does not have the editorial discretion to air them. Such stories may well have appeal to a segment of the community being served. We do wish to emphasize however, that with only 2.5 hours of airtime dedicated to news programming each week, such stories serve to crowd out other more substantive stories dealing with social issues and public policy-- issues that are at the heart of the station’s public interest obligations. With less than three minutes per day devoted to these types of substantive stories in the first quarter of 2015, it is quite obvious that WWOR is not fulfilling these obligations. The fact that many important news stories are going unreported-- and that a great many issues of community relevance are being ignored-- is made abundantly clear in VNJ’s analysis of Chasing broadcasts over a recent two week period.

VNJ'S REVIEW OF CHASING SHOWS THAT WWOR IS IGNORING MORE SUBSTANTIVE NEWS STORIES THAN IT COVERS

VNJ carefully monitored and analyzed all of the Chasing News broadcasts for the two week period from March 29 through April 12, 2015. Our summary of these broadcasts is shown in Exhibit H . Exclusive of introductions, advertising, promotions, and sports and weather segments, the ten weeknight broadcasts under review contained 112 individual story segments aggregating to just over three hours of airtime.

As with our treatment of the stories listed in the I/P Reports, we categorized the stories as "News," "Police Blotter" or "Human Interest / Tabloid." The results are detailed in Exhibit I and are summarized as follows:

Analysis of Chasing News Stories for the Period March 29 - April 12, 2015

| Category | Number of Stories | Airtime of Stories |
|--------------------------|------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| News | 26 23.2% | 0 hr 49 min 27.1% |
| Police Blotter | 15 13.4% | 0 hr 10 min 5.4% |
| Human Interest / Tabloid | 71 63.4% | 2 hr 02 min 67.5% |
| TOTALS | 112 | 3 hr 01 min |

These results further illustrate the trends shown in our I/P Report Analysis. Only about one in four of the stories airing on Chasing News constitute serious news programming that focuses on social issues and public policy. The balance of the program's segments were weighted heavily towards YouTube curiosities (a teen shocking himself with a tazer, men throwing metal on the third rail in a New York City subway, a second video showing a minor explosion in an NYC subway station), and videos of people behaving badly (three street fights, two store robberies, one school fight, two stories showing a New York City police officer cursing and verbally abusing an Uber-driver, and a rather gruesome video of a New York City pedestrian being killed when he was struck by a taxi at thigh speed). Chasing also offered up two faux social media controversies (“inappropriate” smiling selfies taken at the site of a New York City building explosion, Twitter commentary on the Boston Marathon bomber) two promotions for Fox’s Dish Nation, and three features on reality TV personalities. With three stories on “New Jersey’s Best Meatballs” and some brief segments on “National Beer Day,” “National Peanut Butter and Jelly Day,” and the New York Yankees’ announcement of the team’s “official sub shop,” there was insufficient airtime to cover any number of relevant issues.

(We note in passing that the heavy concentration of New York stories listed above is not a coincidence. VNJ’s analysis shows that less than 60% of Chasing stories were focused on New Jersey during the two week period under review. 29% of Chasing stories were focused on New York, with the remaining 11% attributed to other locations or no specific location. These results are shown in Exhibit J.)

As VNJ monitored two weeks of Chasing broadcasts, we also reviewed the stories appearing in New Jersey’s largest newspaper, the Newark Star Ledger. For each day of broadcasts, we identified a number of stories relevant to important social issues and matters of public policy that were not covered by WWOR.

With WWOR having abandoned any coverage of world and national news, it is unsurprising that VNJ identified 39 such stories that went unaddressed. These included such significant issues as nuclear arms negotiations with Iran, national economic stories concerning consumer spending, manufacturing growth, international trade, and housing price trends, “religious freedom” laws in Indiana and Arkansas targeting gays, and American involvement in the fighting in Yemen.

It is arguably of greater concern that VNJ’s analysis revealed 50 important state and local stories that received little or no coverage on WWOR. Among these were a study indicating that New Jersey ranks last in the nation in physicians accepting new Medicaid patients, details on how New Jersey officials were required to withdraw and resubmit documents seeking Federal grants for Superstorm Sandy relief fifteen times, a story on how the NJ state lottery is falling below revenue targets after its operations were privatized, stories on the State’s crumbling infrastructure and depletion of the State DOT’s trust fund, and state court rulings on the Governor’s proposed $1.6 billion cut in public pension funding and the use of affordable housing funds. These are the kind of stories that are truly responsive to “the important issues facing [the] community”—stories not seen on WWOR. The full list of stories not covered is shown in Exhibit K.

In short summary, for the two weeks studied, Chasing aired only 26 stories having serious social issues and public policy concerns as their primary topic. During that same time, VNJ easily identified 39 such stories relating to world and national news, and 50 such stories relating to State and local news that were not covered on Chasing. More than three quarters of Chasing’s featured stories focused on police blotter coverage, human interest segments, or tabloid journalism. Chasing News is a news show in name only. The people of New Jersey deserve far better.

LEGAL ANALYSIS

More than 20 years ago, the Commission determined that there had been consistent shortcomings in commercial VHF television service with respect to the needs of New Jersey citizens. In Docket 20350, the Commission imposed on TV stations serving New Jersey a special New Jersey service obligation with specific guidelines, along with a directive to submit statements describing their special service commitments to New Jersey. Second Report and Order, 59 FCC2d 1386, 1405. In its Third Report and Order, 62 FCC2d 604 (1976), the Commission directed TV licensees in all future renewal applications.

While these obligations apply to all stations serving New Jersey, WWOR-TV has additional, unique obligations to New Jersey. Having found the FCC's actions to improve New Jersey service to be inadequate, in 1982, Congress enacted Section 331 of the Communications Act, which effectively required the Commission to reallocate a VHF TV station to New Jersey. WWOR - TV satisfied the criteria of Section 331, and thereafter applied to be reallocated to Secaucus. See Channel 9 Reallocation (WOR-TV), 53 RR2d 469 (1983).

In implementing Section 331, the Commission took note of the Congressional intent embodied in Section 331, quoting its sponsor, Senator Bradley, as stating that [T]he reallocation of a license to New Jersey will mean that the licenseeholder will move its studios and offices to New Jersey and operate in New Jersey for the benefit of the people in our State. . . I intend to carefully monitor the development of any New Jersey station to insure that it is responsive to the needs of my State. This station will not be a New Jersey station in name only. It will serve the people of New Jersey.

Id., 53 RR2d at 470 (quoting 128 Cong. Rec. 10946, August 3, 1982) (emphasis in the original). See also S. Rep. No. 97-530, 97th Cong., 2nd Sess. 690 (It is the intention of Congress that any current licensee which...will move its studio and offices, to and operate for the public benefit of the unserved state.)

In accordance with that intent, the Commission stated that [I]t would be appropriate to take steps toward carrying out this intention through a higher service responsibility within [WWOR-TV=s] Grade B coverage area. * * * * [W]e anticipate that...continued use of VHF Channel 9 will be directed toward satisfying the programming needs of its New Jersey Grade B coverage area. In the usual case, Secaucus, the city of assignment, would be the primary focus of the licensees programming responsibilities. However, we have previously determined that the lack of local VHF television service in this highly populated area of northern New Jersey presented a unique set of circumstances.... Accordingly, we expect [WWOR-TV] to perform a higher degree of service to its Grade B coverage area than is normally required of a broadcast licensee. At renewal time, [WWOR-TV] will be judged by how it has met the obligation to serve the greater service needs of Northern New Jersey, which we view as broader than the specific needs of Secaucus.

Id., 53 RR2d at 471 (emphasis added)

CONCLUSION

VNJ has established a fundamental failure in the coverage of world, national, state and local news and New Jersey issues by WWOR, licensed in the State of New Jersey. Accordingly, the Commission must grant this petition, designate the above-captioned applications for hearing, and grant all such other relief as may be just and proper.

Respectfully submitted,

Charles Lovey

DECLARATION OF DONNA SANDORSE IN SUPPORT OF PETITION TO DENY RENEWAL APPLICATION

I am Donna Sandorse, a member of Voice for New Jersey and the owner of a New Jersey-based consulting business. I have been a resident of New Jersey for over 50 years. I am also a viewer of TV in Northern and Central New Jersey. As a resident of New Jersey, and a small business owner, it is critical for me to be well-informed in all aspects of New Jersey. Therefore, I believe that it is imperative for New Jerseyans to be adequately served by the television stations which have an obligation to do so.

Members of Voice for New Jersey include more than 50 leaders from throughout New Jersey's corporate, government and non-profit sectors. More than half of the collective membership of VOICE FOR NEW JERSEY (myself included) reside in the northern and central regions of New Jersey and regularly watch television in general and WWOR specifically. As such, Voice for New Jersey represents local residents and the Petition is filed on the members' behalf. Voice for New Jersey is a nine-year old community organization, founded by the Alumni of Leadership New Jersey Class of 2006, whose goal is to increase media attention on New Jersey and improve the quality of the media coverage that NJ receives.

This declaration is submitted in support of Voice for New Jersey's Petition to Deny Renewal of the Station License of WWOR-TV, a commercial television station. I am familiar with the contents of the petition to deny and the declarations submitted in support of the petition to deny. The facts set forth therein are true to the best of my knowledge. I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on April 28, 2015.
