Environmental Exposure

The proposed changes to this facility will have no effect on the exposure of the public to significant levels of RF radiation. The low output power of the translator combined with the type and height of the transmit antenna, above the ground, will result in insignificant RF radiation exposure. The site is located in an area not easily accessible by the general public and RF warning signs are posted. Workers are instructed to turn off the transmitting equipment before performing any antenna work, these instructions are also posted at the site.
