5.) Liberty

Liberty Digital, Inc. (“Liberty Digital”), a subsidiary of Liberty Media Corporation,<sup>9</sup> holds a 10 percent interest in MTVi Group, Inc. (“MTVi”), which controls a number of low power television (“LPTV”) licenses. However, Liberty’s indirect ownership interest in the above LPTV stations is not attributable. A division of Viacom International Inc. is the single majority shareholder in MTVi, holding a 90 percent interest. In any event, the Commission expressly declined to apply the multiple ownership and cable cross-ownership restrictions to LPTV service. See An Inquiry into the Future Role of Low Power Television Broadcasting and Television Translators in the National Telecommunications System, 51 R.R.2d 476, at ¶¶ 83-95(1982).

Liberty also holds a non-attributable interest in USA Networks, which has an ownership interest in a number of full-power television stations. The Commission has previously determined, however, that Liberty’s interest in USA Networks is not pertinent with respect to the ownership of the Telemundo stations. See Letter to Tom W. Davidson, Esq., from Barbara Kreisman, Esq., Chief, Video Services Division (July 30, 1998) (FCC File Nos. BTCCT-971230PA-QC). To the extent that AT&T Corp. may be deemed a party to this application, AT&T also may have indirect ownership interests in certain LPTV stations. However, any such interests do not implicate multiple ownership and cable cross-ownership concerns. On November 15, 2000, AT&T announced that its Board of Directors had voted to split-off Liberty Media Group as an independent, publicly-traded company. The split-off is expected to be consummated on August 10, 2001.

Liberty holds a minority interest (approximately 13 percent) in Emmis Communications Corp. (“Emmis”). Emmis owns multiple radio and television station licensees in the United States. Liberty’s interest in Emmis is non-attributable because Emmis’ Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer, Jeffrey H. Smulyan, holds more than 50 percent of the combined voting power of Emmis’ common stock.

Finally, Liberty also holds non-attributable minority interests in Time Warner, Inc. (“TWI”) and The News Corporation Limited (“News”), each of which holds indirect ownership interests in one or more television stations.

To the best of Telemundo’s knowledge, no other parties hold attributable interests in other broadcast stations.

<sup>9</sup> As indicated in Exhibit 11, Liberty TelemundoNet, Inc., an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Liberty Media Corporation (which together with Liberty TelemundoNet, Inc., is referred to herein as “Liberty”), does not hold an attributable interest in Telemundo. Nevertheless, information is provided herein concerning Liberty’s interests in certain other broadcast properties.
