

EXHIBIT 9

Transfer of Control

Lamco Communications, Inc. (Lamco) is the parent corporation of Appalachian Broadcasting Corporation, Abilene-Sweetwater Broadcasting Company, Eastern North Carolina Broadcasting Corporation, California Broadcasting, Inc and Eagle Communications, Inc. Lamco has issued and outstanding 3987 shares of common stock. A Voting Trust Agreement was entered into on June 1, 2000 to replace a Voting Trust Agreement that expired on that same date. Under both Voting Trust Agreements, shareholders owning the majority of shares in Lamco placed their shares (2996) into a Voting Trust with Andrew W. Stabler, Jr., Howard J. Lamade, Jr. and James H. Lamade as Voting Trustees.

On January 13, 2004, Lamco entered into an Amended and Restated Agreement and Plan of Merger with BlueStone Merger Co. and an Asset Purchase Agreement between Eastern Carolina Broadcasting Corporation and Newport Broadcasting, Inc. Applications were filed with the FCC to carry out these agreements and they have been granted.

To accomplish the above transactions and to comply with Pennsylvania state law, the Voting Trust needed to be dissolved and all shares returned to the individual beneficial shareholders in the exact same number as initially placed in the Voting Trust by them. The Voting Trust Agreement was terminated on January 24, 2004 and Lamco now recognizes that dissolving the trust and returning the shares constituted a technical transfer of control requiring prior FCC approval. Lamco seeks to immediately correct its error and obtain FCC consent.

No other agreements or contracts were necessary between the Voting Trust and the shareholders to accomplish the transaction.
