RF Exposure Statement

An RF exposure study indicates that the levels on the ground in the vicinity of the tower will be below the acceptable limits. In addition, the site is enclosed by a chain link fence. Nowhere on the ground is the RF field a threat to humans. A sign warning of the radiation hazard at higher elevations on the tower has been placed to warn workers who perform maintenance on the tower. There is a coordination procedure in place among the various users of the tower to reduce or terminate transmissions as may be required to protect workers on the tower.
