Sorry, I hit send on the email before I finished the paragraph...

Hi Denise,

I got your message about Mike's question regarding foreign ownership:

These are not public companies. All shareholders are all either employees of the stations or affiliated stations, or are otherwise closely associated with the company (lawyers, consultants, etc.) so all are personally known to the officers, and their citizenship has been assessed based on this personal knowledge. There are no funds or companies that are investors. All stock is held by known individuals.

Please let me know if you need anything further.

Best regards,
Tracey
