

Exhibit 13

The modification to the K216BB license will comply with 74.1204 (d). K216BB 100DBu contour already resides within the protected contours of KNCC and KVNQ (see exhibit "Contour overlap). However as seen in exhibit "Transmitter site", the area where the overlap occurs has no population. This is because the site is located in a remote location far removed from any population. This translator has been in operation since 1986 and because of its remote location, has not caused any interference because of contour overlap.