

Exhibit 11
Ownership Structure of Proposed Assignee

As set forth in the attached chart, the proposed assignee, ComCorp of Tyler License Corp. (“CTLTC”), is the 100 percent subsidiary of ComCorp of Tyler, Inc. (“CTI”), which in turn is the wholly owned subsidiary of ComCorp Broadcasting, Inc. (“CBI”), which is itself the wholly owned subsidiary of ComCorp Holdings, Inc. (“CHI”). The ultimate parent company is Communications Corporation of America (“CCA”).

Fifty percent of the stock of CCA is owned by Thomas R. Galloway, Sr., a U.S. citizen, and the remaining 50 percent is controlled by Apollo Capital Management II, Inc. (“Apollo”), a Delaware corporation.

Apollo’s 50 percent stock interest in CCA is held by three private investment funds: (i) Apollo Investment Fund II, L.P. (“AIF”), a Delaware limited partnership; (ii) Apollo Overseas Partners III, L.P. (“AOP”), a Delaware limited partnership; and (iii) Apollo (UK) Partners III, L.P. (“AUK”), a United Kingdom limited partnership. Apollo Advisors II, L.P. (“Advisors”) is either the general partner or the managing partner for each of these limited partnerships. Apollo is the general partner of Advisors and thereby manages the funds.

None of the limited partners in Advisors, AIF, AOP, or AUK is materially involved, either directly or indirectly, in the management or operation of CCA or any of its subsidiaries. All such limited partners are insulated for purposes of the Commission’s attribution rules.

AIF holds 45.57 percent of CCA’s shares; AOP holds 2.74 percent of CCA’s shares, and AUK holds 1.69 percent of CCA’s shares.

The officers and directors of Apollo are U.S. citizens: Leon D. Black (President and director); John J. Hannan (Vice-President and director); and Michael D. Weiner (Vice-President and Secretary). Messrs. Black and Hannan are the sole stockholders of Apollo.

The officers and directors of CCA and its subsidiaries, all of whom are U.S. citizens, are as follows:

Thomas R. Galloway, Sr., is the Chairman, CEO, and Director of CCA, CHI, CBI, CTI, and CTLTC. D. Wayne Elmore is the President, COO, and Director of CCA, CHI, CBI, CTI, and CTLTC. Bruce Spector and Andrew Jhawar are Directors of CCA, CHI, CBI, CTI, and CTLTC.
