Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Inspired by the beloved works of best-selling children's author Richard Scarry, Busytown Mysteries brings the popular adventures of Busytown to preschoolers with an educational, problem-solving twist. Children can follow classic characters such as Huckle, Sally and Lowly as they scour Busytown on fun-filled adventures looking for answers to life's puzzles. Each episode focuses on fostering viewers' problem solving abilities, as the characters use their skills of observation to collect facts, draw inferences from those facts, and ultimately reach conclusions. Each episode also develops vocabulary through words and concepts that are part of the episode's overall theme. This program is specifically designed to further the educational and informational needs of children, has educating and informing children as a significant purpose, and otherwise meets the definition of Core Programming as specified in the Commission's rules.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	HORSELAND is an animated series about five girls and two boys who live in spectacular countryside that houses a farm called Horseland. Each of these main characters has a special horse whose personality is similar to its owner's. Horseland and its unique approach of integrating the personality of the main characters and animals serve to reinforce prosocial themes. Horseland is also a "coming of age" series in which viewers experience and learn from the social interactions, hopes, dreams, and even fears of this group of culturally diverse adolescents. From this background, the experiences of sharing, caring, compromise, friendship, respect, and competition emerge to provide the young viewers with social and emotional guidelines for better understanding many of the life-lessons they need to learn as they grow and develop. This program is specifically designed to further the educational and informational needs of children, has educating and informing children as a significant purpose, and otherwise meets the definition of Core Programming as specified in the Commission's rules.

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	On June 12, 2009, the station transitioned to digital television. The station's responses to Questions 4, 7, 10 reflect this termination of analog service. After due review of internal station records and documentation provided to us by program suppliers, the licensee hereby certifies that the station fully complied with the FCC's commercial limits in childrens programs, as specified at 47 C.F.R. Section 73.670, with respect to all programs specifically designed for children ages twelve and under. In addition to the educational or informational programs listed in this report, the station broadcast the following programs specifically designed for children ages twelve and under that were not "educational or informational" programming: None. WNCT-TV airs Public Service announcements of various lengths that are designed specifically to meet the educational and informational needs of children as well as announcements that are designed for the general audience, but have messages applicable to children. WNCT non broadcast efforts include the participation of Anchors and Meteorologists as guest speakers and emcees for community groups. Station tours are conducted for Scouts, churches, and schools for children of all ages. During the tours and station visits meteorologists explains various aspects of the weather, including words like humidity, temperature and how satellites and computers are used to forecast the weather. They also express the importance of science and math to those interested in becoming a weather forecaster. WNCT produces Assignment Education, which covers the problems, concerns and success of students. During the quarter WNCT invited Classrooms from 3rd to 8th Grade to sign up and ask questions and submit classroom photographs that could be used in the weather broadcasts on WNCT-TV 9 and on WNCT.COM. The Storm Team Students program includes free educational handouts, a chance to learn about weather safety and weather mythology from around the world. WNCT now has a network of 10 weather stations placed in Middle Schools throughout the viewing area called Storm Net 9. These weather stations have a display panel that teachers can use to show the current weather data. Children learn about the weather patterns and how they affect our weather. WNCT also produces Assignment Education, which covers the problems, concerns and success of students. *Due to a technical difficulty on Saturday, April 9 the Busytown Mysteries I did not air. Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Inspired by the beloved works of best-selling children's author Richard Scarry, Busytown Mysteries brings the popular adventures of Busytown to preschoolers with an educational, problem-solving twist. Children can follow classic characters such as Huckle, Sally and Lowly as they scour Busytown on fun-filled adventures looking for answers to life's puzzles. Each episode focuses on fostering viewers' problem solving abilities, as the characters use their skills of observation to collect facts, draw inferences from those facts, and ultimately reach conclusions. Each episode also develops vocabulary through words and concepts that are part of the episode's overall theme. This program is specifically designed to further the educational and informational needs of children, has educating and informing children as a significant purpose, and otherwise meets the definition of Core Programming as specified in the Commission's rules.
