Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Animal trainer Brandon McMillan operates a training facility known as the Lucky Dog Ranch, where his mission is to rescue hard-to-love and untrained dogs and find them homes. The show focuses on exercising responsibility and on developing a sense of appreciation for life and animals. Life lessons are an integral part of the overarching theme of rescuing these animals from death and providing a second chance for life. Following McMillan's investigations into how to retrain these animals to make them welcome members in the homes of families is both educational and inspirational - encouraging this demographic to become sensitive to our own and others' behavior and teaching how we as individuals can make a difference. This program is specifically designed to further the educational and informational needs of children, has educating and informing children as a significant purpose, and otherwise meets the definition of Core Programming as specified in the Commission's rules.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Chronicling the adventures of Dr. Chris Brown, DR. CHRIS PET VET allows viewers unique insight into the life of one of the world's busiest vets and the animals that he treats. For those animals that require specialist services, Dr. Chris calls on his good friend and colleague Dr. Lisa Chimes, who works at a small animal specialist hospital. The show usually consists of three segments, following the doctor as he treats various animals that are in trouble and offering the viewer opportunities to understand the challenges a veterinarian daily faces. The series focuses on how the doctor investigates the individual problem and tries to develop solutions that on the surface would seem confounding to the viewer. As such the show not only offers a view into careers in and responsibility for taking care of pets, but also into problem solving strategies and behaviors. This program is specifically designed to further the educational and informational needs of children, has educating and informing children as a significant purpose, and otherwise meets the definition of Core Programming as specified in the Commission's rules.

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	During the second quarter the station sponsored several programs which engaged children and one such program is the Golden Apple Program. WDEF News Anchor, Joe Legge, through on air announcements, solicited students with their parents permission to nominate a teacher who has had a positive impact on their lives. A teacher is then chosen by a panel of judges based on the students comments and then highlighted along with the nominating student on Tuesdays each week during our 6 pm Newscast. On May 5, a banquet was held to honor all the Golden Apple Winners and to announce the teacher of the year. Gift cards and medals were given to the winner and three finalists and a cash award to the school of the teacher of the year. The Golden Apple Teacher of the Year was Ashley Blackwell from Westside Elementary. Mrs. Blackwell recognizes teachable moments and uses them to expand how her students view the world. An illness that caused one of Ms. Blackwells students to lose her hair turned into an opportunity to teach her class about differences in people and how bullying is wrong. The three finalists for Teacher of the Year were Ashley Shankles from Jasper Middle School, Cindi Schultz from Calvin Donaldson Elementary School and Andrew LaFever from Red Bank Middle School. Another initiative sponsored by WDEF is a news segment called Whats Right with Our Schools. WDEF News Anchor John Mercer features a segment each Monday during the 6 pm newscast highlighting educators, students, individuals or community groups which work with the students and schools in an extraordinary manner and who go above and beyond the norm in helping to educate children through life lessons. One example was a segment featured students from the STEM High School of Chattanooga who created a special mural for the Chattanooga State Community College Campus. The mural was 14 feet by 16 feet featuring Albert Einstein. The students came together and worked as a unit, sharing supplies and offering suggestions to each other working for a single purpose creating a true work of art. Another segment focused on Rising Professionals. Students from the four High Schools in Catoosa County are getting prepared to enter the work force. Recently the Catoosa County Chamber of Commerce in partnership with Shaw Industries, the Fort Oglethorpe Food City and Catoosa County Schools hosted a Rising Professionals event. It was a workshop to help the students with interviewing skills, resume writing and learning how to work as a team. Chief Meteorologist, Patrick Core spear heads a program called, Kidcaster. It is both instructional and educational for children ages 8 years to 14 years. This program encourages parents and students to apply to become a kidcaster. They must tell why their child would like to be a kidcaster on the air. When a child is selected, they, along with family members come to the TV station for a behind the scenes tour of the station. They see first hand how the news is gathered, stories shot and edited and then come to air. They are allowed to observe a newscast as its televised live. Near the end of the 7 pm newscast, they are introduced on the air as our kidcaster for the day. Afterwards, the student along with the meteorologist prepares and tape a forecast for the next day. The segment airs during our 11 pm news that evening and again the next morning during the morning news. This gives the students hands on learning experience working with weather equipment and computers. During the 2nd quarter we had children from Brown Middle School, Chattanooga Charter School, Pikeville Elementary School, Jasper Elementary and Chattanooga Christian School among other. Another community outreach for children is Weather in the Classroom. WDEF Meteorologists visit school classrooms and make presentations to students on how weather patterns form and move across the country and how they eventually will affect our area. They also give safety tips on what to do when severe weather is approaching. Nine hundred and sixty students viewed the weather presentation this quarter,
