Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Pets in Paradise is a weekly television show that explores the relationship between humans and animals. From surfing pigs, to ducks living inside the house, rescued dogs, and dogs that rescue humans, we look at the remarkable connections people have with their pets in one of the most beautiful places on earth, Hawaii. Each week learn about these relationships and how they flourish in paradise. The 30 minute show consists of compelling stories about people and their pets, information about pet health care, tips on pet training and much more. The show's goal is to help nurture relationships between pet owners and their companions.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Ariel, Zoey & Eli, Too (AZE2) provides CORE programming in the areas of music, art and history. For example AZE2 introduces the viewer to people who have accomplished great things and have a positive message for kids. The music on the show is produced by Emmy Winner David Barrett who makes certain all music is tailored perfectly for kids and has a positive message about life. AZE2's central theme is to empower children to accomplish their goals and dreams. There is always a focus on important life lessons like treating others with respect and kindness. They cite examples of working with the homeless, with animal shelters, and with the armed services. The AZE2 series is a children's informational show hosted by three siblings: twin girls, Ariel and Zoey and their younger brother, Eli. As hosts they entertain and inform their audience through song, dance, music and dialogue. Character education is an integral part of academic education as well as family life. The show supports and encourages respect for others, having integrity, following directions, putting forth your best effort, and taking responsibility. Although it is a show that young people will be drawn to on their own, parents can watch with their children and use it as a discussion platform for many important subjects.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Aqua Kids provides a unique vehicle for young people to learn about the diversity of marine animals around the world, emphasizing the importance of preserving fragile aquatic habitats and encouraging children to take an active role in protecting the future of their community and the world. The program provides a window into the management and preservation of unique habitats and species through the eyes of kids and their hands-on collaboration with science researchers and educators. The messages delivered by Aqua Kids are given by a creative and resourceful host, Molly McKinney, whose scientific background is evident in the show. The other young hosts, whose ages range from pre-teen to late teens, are equally entertaining and informative. The young viewers identify with these young hosts and imagine themselves in the role of the scientist and as someone who could have a positive impact on the environment. The format of young student scientists presenting information on location in a variety of aquatic settings is both entertaining and informative.

Total times aired	26
Number of Preemptions	0
Number of Preemptions for other than Breaking News	0
Number of Preemptions Rescheduled	0
Length of Program	30 mins
Age of Target Child Audience	6 years to 10 years
Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	The New Howdy Doody is a 1975 series which is known to its viewers for Buffalo Bob in his cowboy attire and a cast of human characters such as Clarabell the Clown and Chief Thunderthud as well as puppets Howdy Doody, Dilly Dally and Flub-a-Dub. Children sat on stage in the Peanut Gallery, thus making this show a forerunner of interactive programming we enjoy today. The primary value of the series is to educate and entertain elementary school-aged children. In addition, both older children and monitoring adults will find this series amusing and quite charming as Howdy Doody is a timeless character who has an interactive quality. Educationally, the series offers opportunities for parents and teachers to teach lessons related to language, character development, science and listening skills. In accordance with the 1990 Children's Television Act intended to increase educational and informational programming for children on television, Howdy Doody clearly meets the goals of providing children with a television show that meets CORE requirement of the FCC as follows: 1. Issues such as bullying, establishing trust and courtesy are faced and resolved in the episodes 2. Responsibility is presented in a positive and encouraging manner 3. Making choices in life, mastery of attachment and separation are emphasized in each episode 4. Issues of competition and loyalty are conveyed throughout the series

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	VEGGIE TALES is a show that draws upon characters from stories, which use both long and short-form materials to provide social-emotional messages to children. Narrated by animated veggies, Bob the Tomato and Larry the Cucumber, the show teaches life lessons through wit and humor. Each episode contains one or two short animated stories that illustrate core values to children in an entertaining way. Stories are interrupted with silly songs, usually sung by Larry the Cucumber, that contain whacky lyrics in a catchy tune. Each episode ends with Bob and Larry reinforcing the lesson learned through the stories.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Steal the Show provides CORE programming in the areas of music, music composition, the music recording process and musical instruments. Ariel, Zoey and Eli Engelbert of the EI program Ariel, Zoey & Eli, Too work to write and record an album with Grammy Winner Jim Peterik. All aspects of the process are covered - 1) Creating the Melody 2) Writing the lyric 3) Creating harmonies 4) Developing instrumentals and 5) Recording the song in the studio. With schools across the country cutting funding to music related programs, Steal the Show fills an important void. Students will be empowered with the knowledge and skills they will broaden and hone as they follow Ariel, Zoey and Eli on their journey with one of the most prominent songwriters of the past 20 years.
