Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Xploration Nature Knows Best will inspire and educate audiences of all ages. Host and marine biologist, Danni Washington, exudes energy as she relates how technology all around us was inspired by nature and how modern innovators are continuing with this practice. We will whirl around in airplanes inspired by birds, and in helicopters influenced by the dragonfly, and even jump from a few such vehicles to illustrate how wingsuits were invented based on the flying squirrel. But engineers are not the only scientists looking toward nature. We will also meet with biologists studying the behavior patterns of ants, architects who design living buildings, and roboticists who are making their designs bigger, stronger, and faster based on animals. This series will help kids to understand how getting outside and taking a look around can help them make the next great discovery.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Each week, Spangler conducts a series of eye popping experiments using only accessible items. Trashcan smoke shooters, fizzy soda eruptions and ping pong ball cannons are all fair game in this DIY science show that's fun for the whole family. Whether in a garage, a park or even the local hardware store, Spangler uncovers the FUNdamentals of science that are hiding in plain sight. No two experiments will be the same, and with the help of slow-mo cameras, viewers don't miss a millisecond of the action, But each mind-boggling experiment is only the beginning, Xploration DIY SCI goes beyond the booms, bangs, fizzes and flickers to explain to kids how the scientific lessons from each experiment are also being used out in the real world by actual scientists. After seeing how two interlaced phone books can tow your car, Spangler will reveal how this same property keeps us safe by helping trains brake when they need to slow down. This how to, magazine format mash up comes together in a dazzling visual display that is as informative as it is entertaining.
