Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Nye's TV persona is a tall and slender scientist wearing a blue lab coat and a bow-tie. He combines the serious science of everyday things with fast-paced action and humor. Most half-hour episodes contain a mock song parody and music video in the Soundtrack of Science by Not That Bad Records. Not that bad is a catchphrase that Nye will often say in those episodes, substituting a scientific roundup of the episode for the lyrics to a popular song.

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	During first quarter 2017, WVTM-TV aired 4 additional episodes of the regularly scheduled core children's program, "Teen Kids News" back-to-back, which created a "mini-marathon" of the program on Sunday, January 1. These additional airings of the program were intended to help increase audience awareness of the program to further educate and inform teen children viewers about topical, current news events during a period of time that our nation was undergoing a change in administration, and when significant and socio-cultural events and developments were occurring. These additional core episodes were promoted via on-air crawls, and the television listing services were notified in advance of their scheduling. WVTM main digital channel, preempted the following programs Heart of Champion with Lauren Thompson, The Voyager, Wilderness Vet, Journey with Dylan Dreyer, Naturally, Dan Seo, and Give for Severe Weather Breaking News coverage on January 7, 2017. One or more episodes of children's programming that was preempted during the quarter was not rescheduled. The Digital Core Programming Summary section of this report would not permit the station to include preemption reports for such unrescheduled preemptions, and FCC Staff has advised that no preemption report for such unrescheduled episodes is necessary.
