This program will inspire and educate audiences of all ages. Host and marine biologist, Danni Washington, exudes energy as she relates how technology all around us was inspired by nature and how modern innovators are continuing with this practice. We will whirl around in airplanes inspired by birds, and in helicopters influenced by the dragonfly, and even jump from a few such vehicles to illustrate how wingsuits were invented based on the flying squirrel! But engineers aren't the only scientists looking toward nature. We will also meet with the biologists studying the behavior patterns of ants; architects who design "living building"; and roboticists who are making their designs bigger, stronger and faster based on animals. This series will help kids to understand how getting outside and taking a look around can help them make the next great discovery.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Led by NBC News meteorologist and Today contributor Dylan Dreyer, Aventuras con Dylan Dreyer is a wondrous celebration of nature. Breathtaking cinematography will bring viewers up close and personal with the black bears of Montana to polar bears in the Artic. The audience will have a unique platform to see animals in their natural habitat, including exploring the extraordinary migration of 1.5 million animals traveling over 500 miles across the Serengeti in Tanzania and Kenya. Aventuras con Dylan Dreyer will tell us why. KTRE aired an additional 8 episodes of Aventuras Con Dylan Dreyer in the first quarter 2018 to make good a very minor shortfall from the fourth quarter 2017. Because the program was not a "rescheduled" first quarter episode, the station has listed the additional airings in the Days/Time informational box and increased the Total Times Aired at Regularly Scheduled Time by eight.
