Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F. R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	One or more episodes of children's programming that was preempted during the quarter was not rescheduled. The Digital Core Programming Summary section of this report would not permit the station to include preemption reports for such unrescheduled preemptions, and FCC Staff has advised that no preemption report for such unrescheduled episode is necessary. During this quarter, KCRA-TV scheduled two Special Episodes of "Animal Rescue" to air back-to-back as a mini marathon on Sunday March 4. These airings of the program were intended to help increase audience awareness of the program (which has recently been made available to the station) and to further educate and inform viewers about animal care and recovery. Engaging teen viewers is a principal goal of the station's airing of these Special Episodes. The station notified listing guides about these Special Episodes, and the station aired an informational crawl to promote the Special Edition episodes. KCRA-TV also aired 11 additional, back-to-back episodes of the regularly scheduled core children's program, "Teen Kids News," which created three mini-marathons of the program on Sunday, January 28, from 9am - 11:30am; on Sunday, March 18, from 9-11am; and on Saturday, February 17, from 11am - 12pm. These mini-marathons were intended to increase audience awareness of the program and to further educate and inform the teen audience about significant news events during the first quarter of 2018. Engaging teen viewers in "news of the day," which is a principal goal of these additional episodes, cannot be overstated. Program content also included social and cultural developments and "feel good" stories designed to expand the literacy and world view of the teen audience. In short, these episodes were scheduled to update teens about recent events and reports, some of which they missed due to network sports coverage. These additional core episodes were promoted via on-air crawls, and the television listings services were notified in advance of their scheduling.
