Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	This program introduces viewers to concepts related to construction, building, engineering, and technology through engaging, relatable stories. The setting is Sheetrock Hills, where the main character, Manny, has a repair shop along with his talking tools. In each episode, one of Manny's neighbors calls for help with an item that needs to be repaired or assembled. Manny will answer "Hola, Handy Manny's repair shop, you break it", and the tools shout "We fix it!" Manny and his tools then assess the problem, ask questions, come up with a solution, and make any necessary repairs to help the neighbor. Manny and his neighbors also participate in a number of Latino traditions, festivals, and holidays during the program. This program aired on the station's main digital stream.

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	KORX ran PSAs during the quarter of interest to children covering topics such as drug abuse, child abuse, don't text and drive, etc. From the information provided in the PSAs, children and viewers may better identify problems and handle difficult situations as they arise.
