Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F. R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	The Stations of CNYCentral engage the children in our communities in both non broadcast and broadcast events Off air we help our young viewers build confidence and begin to think about study habits that lead to work ethic as well as developing other life skills. We staffed a booth at the NY State Fair with continuous meet and greet with children and their parents one common theme was getting ready for school and for success in learning. Our meteorologists visit classrooms even over summer recess to encourage science careers. Our Weather Authority One mobile weather center has been visiting summer school sessions including at Liverpool Middle School. Staffers have been with childrens programming at area libraries. One staffer has a child therapy dog visiting preschool story hours to encourage reading and teaching the basics of writing and language. Several staffers serve on Boards which oversee programs directed at improving the lives and encouraging lives for children and teens. We also welcome youth group tours as a way of showing what we do and encouraging them to think about using education to understand technology and set career goals. We welcome interns from area colleges 4 this semester in producing reporting 4 in sports who get a hands on chance to see how broadcasting works. On air in addition to our childrens block programming we have regularly scheduled segments in our newscasts designed to inform and showcase positives for young people. Athlete of the Week runs on Thursday evenings when school is in session starting in Sept profiling a high school athlete who also excels academically and in community service I Challenge Niko is often a sports related story but in creating it our Sports Director talks about broadcasting and work ethic. Focus on Family Tuesday 5pm news on NBC3 presents stories aimed at helping children and their families succeed. In Your Community is a daily segment on CW News at 10 which lists events especially aimed at offering caregivers of young children a look at community programs mostly free. Ongoing reporting on academic concerns and successes and efforts at improving schools and student outcomes.
