Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	WJTC also ran PSAs to help educate children and teens on important issues. The topics ranged from informing teens about the dangers of reckless driving, encouraging music and the arts education to kids of all ages, the importance of taking care of your teeth, providing a hotline for kids to talk to about personal problems such as depression and bullying, to illustrating the dangers of alcohol abuse. WJTC's meteorologists also visited many schools in the area to teach children about weather and preparation for storms and other weather-related disasters.
