Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	All shows were developed specifically with the young adolescent and pre-school child in mind. Each program was supported by a team composed of the creative personnel (producers and writers), an educational consultant, and several technical consultants verified all the factual content or tested that competitive challenges that were presented in each program. The educational consultant worked with the creative team to convey content at a level of comprehension for the target audience and to develop age-appropriate themes for learning within each episode of every program. All of the educational content was integrated into the action and movement of each episode so that the entertainment and education would be interdependent and present throughout the program. (It was necessary to reschedule certain shows this quarter due to conflicts with live network sports. In each instance of rescheduling, prior notice was given to viewers both over-the-air and through local listings services.) On August 5, 2019, KOB's Chief Meteorologist Jorge Torres gave the students at Crownpoint Community School a fist day of school pep talk. Jorge inspired and brighten students to have a great year. On August 28, 2019 KOB's Weather Forecaster Steve Stucker spoke to 6th and 7th graders at John Adams School, AVID Program. These are mainly students from low income or below poverty level families. Most have no one in the family that has ever attended college. Steve encouraged these students to think in a positive way about advancing themselves through individual effort. Steve shared his experiences of being first generation college student and secrets of success.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Animal Outtakes visits all types of animal sanctuaries and zoos in the United States to explore the world of animals, from camels to lemurs, from rhinos to handicapped pets. Teen viewers learn about the care and living habitats of these various animals and how they survive in the world. In each episode, a detailed explanation of an animal species is provided as well as information on the animal's daily nutrition and other living habits. Animal Outtakes is educational, informative and entertaining, while providing teen viewers with up-close televised visits of wild and exotic creatures.
