Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	La Abeja Maya is an entertaining preschool series that furthers the educational and informational needs of children by promoting the social and emotional goals of independence, empathy and diversity. The series also serves the cognitive and intellectual needs of children by teaching them about biodiversity and the importance of protecting nature. The main character, Maya, is a free spirit with a curious demeanor and fondness for discovery. With her eagerness for adventure, she lives free in the meadow, because the world is just too big and too fascinating to stay in the bee hive. Through Maya's open mindedness, children learn to foster their curiosity and to accept and respect others. On her way through the meadow, Maya and her many friends teach children valuable lessons about supporting the weak, learning from each other appreciating different perspectives on life.

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	These make goods were scheduled four weeks after they were originally scheduled to air. The delay in the scheduled make good stems from programming difficulties the station encountered due to its coverage of Hurricane Harvey; the delay is an aberration from our usual policy of ensuring make goods are scheduled as soon as possible after the preemption.
