Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	This program aired on KCCI's main digital channel (8-1): Chronicling the adventures of Dr. Chris Brown, Dr. Chris Pet Vet allows viewers unique insight into the life of one of the world's busiest vets and the animals that he treats. For those animals that require specialist services, Dr. Chris calls on his good friend and colleague Dr. Lisa Chimes, who works at a small animal specialist hospital. The show usually consists of three segments, following the doctor as he treats various animals that are in trouble and offering the viewer opportunities to understand the challenges a veterinarian daily faces. The series focuses on how the doctor investigates the individual problem and tries to develop solutions that, on the surface would seem confounding to the viewer. As such, the show not only offers a view into careers in and responsibility for taking care of pets, but also into problem solving strategies and behaviors. This program is specifically designed to further the educational and informational needs of children, has educating and informing children as a significant purpose, and otherwise meets the definition of Core Programming as specified in the Commission's rules.

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	The core, E/I children's program, Lucky Dog, was rescheduled in its second home -- Saturday at 5pm -- on three separate dates in first quarter: January 20th, February 24th and March 24th. Lucky Dog aired as scheduled on February 24th and March 24th, but was joined in progress 20 minutes late on January 20th due to a network sports overrun. Since the first 20 minutes of Lucky Dog did not air, we did not include the January 20th episode of Lucky Dog in our program average for the quarter. In addition, two of our core children's programs -- Lucky Dog and Teen Kids News -- were briefly interrupted on March 24th by CBS News Special Reports on the March for Our Lives rally in Washington, DC; Lucky Dog was interrupted from 11:00:04-11:01:46am and Teen Kids News was interrupted from 12:00:04-12:05:15pm on March 24th. RE: Jack Hanna's Into the Wild: Special Edition. Originally introduced to our teen audience in fourth quarter of 2017, KCCI scheduled two special edition, mini-marathons of Jack Hanna's into the Wild in first quarter to further increase audience awareness of this educational series for teens. As a limited number of episodes aired last quarter, these mini-marathons served to supplement the educational experience by informing teens about different creatures and cultures around the world and by focusing on the importance of natural history and environmental stewardship. KCCI notified the television listing services in advance about the broadcast dates and times of Jack Hanna's Into the Wild and also aired crawls promoting these special edition episodes. Final Note: One or more episodes of children's programming that were preempted during this quarter were not rescheduled. The Digital Core Programming Summary section of this report would not permit the station to include preemption reports for such non-rescheduled preemptions, and FCC staff has advised that no preemption report for such non-rescheduled episodes is necessary.
