Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	KFRE-TV continued to the serve the educational, informational, and social needs of children throughout the 2nd Quarter 2019 through extensive broadcast and outreach activities. The station has continued to air PSAs for local and national organizations serving the interests of children and families, including: The Ad Council's Childhood Asthma Attack Prevention Campaign "Fish," motivating parents of asthmatic children to learn how to prevent asthma attacks and avoid the emergency room; The Ad Council's Fatherhood Involvement Campaign, "Teapot Moment featuring WWE wrestler Roman Reigns", encouraging men to take time to be a dad today by playing an active, responsible role in their kids' lives; The band Foreigner has re-recorded their hit song "I Want To Know What Love Is" along with the children at Shriners Hospitals for Children to encourage viewers to help by donating today. We also have presented stories in our newscasts highlighting children's issues, including; a state assembly health committee's new bill tightening the state's rules on vaccination exemptions for children. The bill would give health officials oversight over doctors who handout more than five exemptions per year. This is an important story for viewers who may have school-age children and are on either side of the vaccination debate; The Fresno Chaffee Zoo's new program, in partnership with Valley Children's Hospital to make the zoo a more accessible experience to children with autism. The program is called George's Pass. The pass will identify children with sensory needs to zoo staff. Families will also be given backpacks with toys and noise canceling headphones. This is an important story for valley viewers, especially families who have children with autism, our state is now updating sex ED guidance for public school teachers. The California Board of Education is encouraging teachers to talk about gender identity with kindergarteners, and give advice to LGBTQ teens on how to navigate relationships and practice safe sex, a topic of concern for our viewers; A story about a local middle school student who is now facing serious charges of threatening to shoot people at the school's graduation ceremony. This is important for people in our area to know that actions have consequences, and not to become complacent to school threats; A story about a local teacher who is facing child abuse charges after reports that she hurt a child at her school. This is an important alert for viewers who may have kids attending local schools; The Fowler Unified School District is now showing off a new set of all-electric school buses. The district plans to replace a total of nine buses with the electric vehicles, which can go up to 125 miles on a single charge. This is important for people in the area so they can see how schools are investing in our environment. The station continues to offer tours of our facility to local schools to show where and how the news is produced, and to answer questions on what skills are needed to work in the industry, including education. The station's on-air talent maintains an extensive schedule with community.

Each week, host Emily Calandrelli takes journeys through space that will both entertain and educate viewers. Ever wonder what it would be like to live in space or on a different planet? Emily shows viewers what it is like to try to perform everyday tasks while floating in zero gravity and living in a Mars-like habitat. Episodes feature space robotics, commercial space tourism, asteroids, the search for other life in space, and many other topics, including NASA-related programs as applicable to the episodes. This program airs on the station's fourth digital stream, D4.
