Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Awesome Adventures is a syndicated educational television series about Jake Noonan. The series is about one host and two selected teenagers who travel to different places in countries all around the world. Parents need to know that while teens are featured in this adventure travel series, it's perfectly fine for younger viewers, too. In locations all over the world, the teens and their host explore local culture, perform extreme sports, and learn about each country's diverse ecosystem. Viewers are treated to action-packed, informative, funny segments that help broaden their worldview. The program is designed to educate, inform and entertain children 16 and under about the world around them. Each journey is a lesson in the beauty of nature, it's creatures and the people who inhabit the land. The shows are not designed to be preachy or overly pedantic, but rather, the goal is to make the learning fun.

Mystery Hunters is an excellent example of a children's program that is innovative and empowering. Through critical observation, analytical thinking and scientific testing, the series encourages children to question the world around them. Through both the travel aspect and investigation of ancient myths and mysteries, there is a profound focus on history, culture, geography and international customs. The Mystery Hunters... Araya and Christina, are regular kids with inquisitive minds who travel the globe to investigate the sites and delve into the tales which have baffled people throughout the ages.. Armed with video cameras and their instincts, they gather facts and meet the experts, debunking common myths and offering explanations for legends, spooky stories and unexplained phenomena. They use critical thinking and scientific reasoning to show that things are not always what they seem. Back at the discovery Mystery Lab, doubting Dave, the resident skeptical scientist, challenges viewers to send in their own mysteries and then tackles the questions with experiments and logical explanations. Dave also assists the Mystery Hunters with their investigations.
