Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	MAIN DIGITAL CHANNEL: Animal trainer Brandon McMillan operates a training facility known as the Lucky Dog Ranch, where his mission is to rescue hard-to-love and untrained dogs and find them homes. The show focuses on exercising responsibility and on developing a sense of appreciation for life and animals. Life lessons are an integral part of the overarching theme of rescuing these animals from death and providing a second chance for life. Following McMillan's investigations into how to retrain these animals to make them welcome members in the homes of families is both educational and inspirational - encouraging this demographic to become sensitive to our own and others' behavior and teaching how we as individuals can make a difference. This program is specifically designed to further the educational and informational needs of children, has educating and informing children as a significant purpose, and otherwise meets the definition of Core Programming as specified in the Commission's rules.

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	WLKY sponsors a weekly segment of "Wednesday's Child," which highlights special needs children awaiting adoption in Kentucky. To date, nearly 4,000 children have been placed in permanent adoptive homes through the Wednesday's Child Program. WLKY routinely provides tours for local students and student shadow sessions to point out broadcast opportunities. For the fourth year, WLKY participated with Breckinridge-Franklin Elementary School's Friday "Power Hour" sessions by sending staff to talk about various station job duties, such as photographers, production, reporters and sales and marketing directors. Children Liaison Director, Debbie Roberson, is a member of the Jefferson County Public School Advisory Board and served on the committee that redesigned the Communication, Arts and Media magnet school curriculum for three area high schools. In March 2012, WLKY launched a comprehensive series of vignettes entitled, "Two Centuries of Black Louisville," aimed at educating and bringing awareness of African American history in our area. Consulting with the three authors of the book by the same name, these vignettes are chronicling significant and historical accounts for future generations. An on-going PSA schedule airs with these educational vignettes. On August 7th, WLKY produced PSAs with nationally-known rap artist "Master P," in support of WLKY's violence prevention campaign known as "Street Voices." The PSA was geared to the younger population with a message encouraging education as a means to success.
