Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	"WMBC News" and "WMBC Hometown," daily and weekly shows, cover many issues pertaining to children. The programs are designed to be child-friendly, non-violent, wholesome and informative. During the second quarter of 2013, for example, WMBC aired such reports as: the "Dine Indeed" program and participants donates proceeds to food bills of local children's organizations; A new bill in the NJ legislature aims to make it illegal to purchase violent video games without supervision by a guardian; A missing 16-year old was found to be in hiding, and was recovered; Hundreds of children and adults joined officials for the opening of the Sea Lion Exhibit at Turtle Back Zoo; The Sisters to Prom Dress Shop in Sussex County provides prom dresses to needy teens; A community comes together to remember a 6-year old boy shot by a neighbor child; States participate to consider options to the high school equivalency test; The Cinnamon Challenge is becoming widely followed but many do not know the dangers; Psychologists have advice on talking to kids about the Boston marathon bombings; 6580 pounds of food are collected by Pope John High for the Sussex County Social Services food pantry in Newton; Local children participate in "Take Your Child to Work Day"; Sandy Hook National Park reopens for park goers young and old; Some say they are seeing a rise in the number of young gamblers, and that online betting will make the problem worse; A group of graduating high school students were guests of honor at the NJ Governor's mansion to acknowledge their achievements; New York City is celebrating its first Scripps National Spelling Bee winner in 16 years; Sports and health officials gathered in North Jersey to educate the public about the dangers of concussions in young athletes; Two campaigns in Sussex County promote healthy living; Students and teachers in Perth Amboy recognize the First African American to cast a vote in the United States; Bergen County celebrates a child selected to be "Police Chief for a Day"; News discussion on how Sexual abuse affects scores of children throughout the country; 55 graduates of Newark Now's children nutrition program learn the differences that help them reduce childhood obesity; Two children who remain hospitalized after falling out of a 2-story building are a reminder of the importance of window guards; Goryeb Children's Hospital provides a central location for long-term care. WMBC-TV's "Mountain Views" program, which airs on Saturdays, provides information and discussion on Sunday school programs, ministries for children and youth, Bible studies and other activities. The station aired numerous public service announcements that encourage the well being of children, and provides educational studio tours to children in the area. WMBC continues its long-standing annual scholarship program to numerous high schools throughout the area to promote public service, excellence and higher education. In June 2013, 15 local high school schools each awarded $1,000 WMBC scholarships to graduating seniors for their demonstrated commitment to public service.
