Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	This animated series is based on the books by Richard Scarry. The fictional city Busytown is an enchanting place that's abuzz with energy and life. Episodes are divided into multiple segments with different themes. The first and last segments involve the children in Busytown exploring their community. At the end of each segment the children have learned a little about their community and the world they live in. The middle segment shows children life in other cities featuring daily activities of adult characters in places such as Paris or Rome. Each episode includes two song segments in which the first, "Imagine That", teaches various things like general science to how banks work. The second song segment that teaches safety is called "Play it Safe". The aim of the series is to stimulate imagination and foster vicarious play, teach pro-social behavior (such as generosity, friendliness, persistence, altruism, understanding of others' points of view, empathy, acceptance of others' idiosyncrasies), help children move beyond family attachments to the world of friendships and community, help children develop skills on which academic learning depends such as attention, language, memory, active processing of a story and an interest in reading. (This program aired on the station's digital channel 2).

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	This series follows five teenagers who are accidentally morphed into dinosaurs, which brings them together to find a way to stop the efforts of a mad scientist who is plotting to return the world to its prehistoric state. Each episode portrays these teens facing and finding solutions to problems that are relevant to contemporary viewers. Along the way, they struggle with interpersonal issues such how and why to work with people they do not really understand, the meaning and value of honesty, teamwork, perseverance, self-confidence, sharing credit, using each person's strength while ignoring weaknesses, and getting along in difficult situations. They learn that positive behavior results in positive consequences. This series combines the fascination of dinosaurs with familiar issues that children have to face each day. Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	WRLH airs PSAs from "The Advertising Council, Inc." geared toward children including: 1) :30 PSA-"Nutrition Education-Jungle Book"-Motivates moms to encourage proper nutrition and physical activity for their families. The "Bare Necessities of Healthy Living" PSAs feature characters from Disney's The Jungle Book and demonstrates the importance of balancing good nutrition, and physical activity. Viewers are encouraged to visit www.MyPyramid.gov and use the USDA's Food Guidance System as an effective tool to help their children make healthy choices. 2) :30 PSA-"Autism Awareness"-compares the odds of many things that parents think about each day such as dreams they have found for their children and the measures they take to protect them - with the startling odds of a child being diagnosed with autism. 3) :30 PSA-"Oceans Awareness"-Will raise awareness among Americans about the health of the oceans. Protecting our oceans in turn affects the world we live in. The ads featuring Disney's the Little Mermaid, are designed to inspire our audience to prevent man-made pollution before it harms the ocean and the creatures that live there. 4) :30 PSA-"Energy Efficient"-Is designed to inspire a movement among tweens and their parents by establishing positive energy efficient habits that will reduce demands on overall energy consumption. 5) :30 PSA-"Fatherhood Involvement"-Is designed to inspire a new commitment to responsible fatherhood. The PSA highlights an effort to show dads the critical role they play in their children's lives. 6) :30 PSA-"Community Engagement"-Is to motivate and inspire people from all walks of life to get engaged and become a partner with the United Way in the efforts to advance the common good. The diverse group of people and the call to action, "Give, Advocate, and Volunteer" allows viewers to see themselves as having a role and quickly determines there are ways that they can make a difference. January 01, 2012 through March 31, 2012, Fox Richmond highlights our annual underage drinking prevention initiative "Lights, Camera, Take Action - Stop Underage Drinking NOW!". Lights, Camera, Take Action is a community service initiative designed to encourage responsible decision making for high school students, and deepen the conversation with teens, parents, law enforcement and educators. We encourage high school students to write, edit, shoot and produce to final completion a :20 PSA about the consequences and dangers of underage drinking. The program is used as a class and individual project, where students are able to utilize the technology available to them in the classroom to have a positive discussion with their peers. Lights, Camera, Take Action engages teens through a unique combination of television, mobile text, social media and web.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	This animated series is based on the books by Richard Scarry. The fictional city Busytown is an enchanting place that buzzes with energy and life. Episodes are divided into multiple segments with different themes. The first and last segments involve the children in Busytown exploring their community. At the end of each segment the children have learned a little about their community and the world they live in. The middle segment shows children life in other cities featuring daily activities of adult characters in places such as Paris or Rome. Each episode includes two song segments in which the first, "Imagine That", teaches various things like general science to how banks work. The second song segment that teaches safety is called "Play it Safe". The aim of the series is to stimulate imagination and foster vicarious play, teach pro-social behavior (such as generosity, friendliness, persistence, altruism, understanding of others' points of view, empathy, acceptance of others' idiosyncrasies), help children move beyond family attachments to the world of friendships and community, help children develop skills on which academic learning depends such as attention, language, memory, active processing of a story and an interest in reading.
