Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	9th Period, which airs on our main digital channel, is a weekly half-hour drama series for teens that teaches positive consequences of thought and action when combined with friendship's effective influences. This series is comprised of three friends who meet every day after school to discuss the day's events. But these kids are more than friends, they are amateur sleuths. Each show presents a mystery that the children solve by the end of the show. Every child will see themselves in these characters as they share their daily trials and triumphs as they face different kinds of adversity, including bullying, thievery, learning difficulties, homelessness, family conflicts, etc. Problem solving, working together toward a common goal, ethics, and morals are conveyed through the thoughts, words, and actions of these three characters. This program meets the definition of core programming as viewers will be able to use their own cognitive skills to solve the mysteries along with the main characters. Every episode includes a moral lesson and integrates interesting science facts and other classroom knowledge throughout the show. Viewers will also observe alternative ways to handle stress, learning difficulties, and the variety of endless manners that the group mentality, when positively united, can spread good in the world.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Wild America, which airs on our main digital channel, is the first and only wildlife and nature series to focus exclusively on the wild animals and wild lands of North America. Hosted by award-winning wildlife photographer and premier naturalist Marty Stouffer, the series features footage of mammals, birds, reptiles, fish and insects throughout the entire continent. Viewers take a guided journey to witness the vast wonders and infinite diversity of nature first hand. Series highlights include a magnificent menagerie of mice, moose, muskox, marmot, molluse, mink, mockingbird, marten, manatee, and many many more. Wild America is a series families can enjoy together. Parents and children will be delighted as they learn about nature. This program meets the definition of core programming because it educates and informs children on how all wild creatures, including man, are inter-connected, through the animals own eyeview, focusing on the reality of life in the wild, including birth, mating, predation and death.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Each episode of this weekly half-hour show for young children, which airs on our second digital channel, is developed with guidance from two highly respected educators. Each show features the main character, Gina D, as a fun loving and positive role model who connects with her 2-6 year old audience with the same familiarity that children associate with their own mother. During the show, children learn skills and concepts in ways that are easily absorbed by a small child's intellect. Gina D's combination of bright colors and shapes, live action and fanciful puppetry will engage children in a world of educational fun. The show is a valuable vehicle in the development of the self-image, social, math, and reading skills in young children. Plus, children are not only educated, but entertained by a cast of whimsical characters which include Simon Wannabe, Mister Pockets, Miss Muffin, Pierre D'Artist, TV Ted and Doggy Brown. This program meets the definition of core programming because it educates and informs young children at their age level.
