Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	"Animal Atlas" continues its long series life by using technology to consistently improve the essential visual component of the episodes. The high definition video of the arresting animals and animal elements is well used to engage viewers and lead them through a sequence of valued and meaningful insights. One of the series strengths continues to be that it does not just present a list of animal facts but links a wide variety of information into sequences that make knowledge of the animal kingdom both simpler and easier to remember. The interstitial quizzes have become not just summaries of previous information but a lead-in to the next organized sequence of information. The tone of credited narrator Eric Schwartz is perfect for the target group of 13-16 year-olds. It is non-professorial and faux flip-again, ideal for the target mindset of self confident adolescence. Yet the vocabulary is rich. It presumes the understanding of the words like "behemoth" and "adaptation" but gives enough context to add that word to young viewers' vocabulary without getting pedantic. Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	The motto of the series says it all "Bond With Your Heart, Train With Your Brain." This series demonstrates learning a new skill by listening, watching, and following through geared towards ages 13- 16. By using animals as a teaching tool, some skills demonstrated can be used in dealing with common life issues as well. Issues that arise through training an animal are to encourage patience and discipline. Responsibility of caring for an animal instills compassion and concern. It is a listening exercise to comprehend information. Ultimately, the child will gain an education through the art of training an animal, which can in turn lead to more confidence, a sense of accomplishment and well being. The series leads them to use new skill as an opener to form new relationships and use their communication ability. This airs on Heartland TV on Digital channel 46.4.

Program Title	Animal Atlas
Origination	Network
Days/Times Program Regularly Scheduled	Sat/10am & 10:30am
Total times aired at regularly scheduled time	26
Length of Program	30 mins
Age of Target Child Audience from	13 years to 16 years
