Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	This is programming not only for children but for a variety of populations with special needs. Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing children and their families, Hearing children who can't speak because of illness or disability, People learning English - or Spanish - or American Sign Language (ASL), Educators in elementary education and Christian education, Educators in ASL interpreting training programs, Stroke victims. But Dr. Wonder's Workshop looks different - very different from anything else out there. The second the kids land on our show, they notice the sign language and they stop! If they're hearing, they start to piece together what they're seeing with what they're hearing. If they're Deaf, their eyes light up and they see "something for ME!!"
