Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Star Street is a cartoon for children about 6 to 8 years old and focuses on the Star Kids, a number of small pink aliens with appearance and personalities based on the signs of the zodiac. The show takes place on their home planet, a small idyllic star-shaped planetoid. The main antagonists were the green blobs, a race of green cowardly aliens living on a neighboring garbage planet, who were led by constantly hungry Momo, a large, pink alien warlord. There are two stories in each episode with original songs in English. In each story, the Star Kids go on adventures and solve problems and by the end of the program have learned something new about life, love, friendship, and cooperation to other races. Star Street educates children by promoting friendship, tolerance and creativity.

Length of Program	30 mins
Age of Target Child Audience	5 years to 10 years
Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Kimba was born on a boat, where Eliza teaches him his father's ideals. Kimba lands far from his ancestral home and is found and cared for by some people. He learns the advantages of human culture, and decides that when he returns to his wild home he will bring culture to the jungle and stand for peace like his father. The show follows Kimba's life after he returns to the wild, still a young cub, and how he learns and grows in the next year. Kimba soon learns that the only communication and mutual understanding between animals and humans will bring true peace. The program educates children about family and environmental values, as well as teaches vital lessons relating to growing up, such as responsibility and courage.

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	WQQZ rebroadcasts the signal of WMEI-TV, Facility ID No. 26676. WMEI was off the air on May 11, 2014 and May 24, 2014, and therefore the station WQQZ was unable to rebroadcast the primary station's signal. The average number of hours of CORE programming in question 7(a) reflects the average number of hours per week broadcast while the primary station was operational. Additionally, on May 10, 2014, Flying House was accidentally aired from 10:30 am to 12:30 pm, preempting two episodes of Superbook.
