Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	During this quarter KATU supported the educational and informational needs of children with on-air news and local programming, station projects, PSA's and tours. KATU Family Matters initiative was a School Supplies Drive for Friends of the Children. The station also supported the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation, by promoting their annual OneWalk which raises support and awareness for Type 1 Diabetes. This quarter the station produced vignettes for a program called Rootopia which brings farm to family ideas for viewers to grow, cook and eat together with their kids. KATU also produced 2 weeks of special Back to School stories covering a school bond in Beaverton, bulletproof backpack inserts, bus stop sex offenders, fighting substance abuse in schools, restorative justice in schools, safety officers, school security, wellness center at school and vaping being geared toward kids. Other stories covered in newscasts this quarter were more fruit in kid's lunches, easing your child back into school sleep schedule and a free science, technology, math (S.T.E.M.) camp for kids in Salem thanks to Oregon State University and NASA. KATU News aired Kids Doing Good segments this quarter including an 8 year old with a genetic disease motivating walkers at the first annual Shriners Children's Hospital Walk, a 10 year old who was inspired to send care packages to troops and a local girl running an art supply drive to help other children who cannot afford art supplies. KATU also conducted 2 group tours during this quarter that have included children from KinderCare and students from local high schools.
