Total times aired at regularly scheduled time	2
Total times aired	13
Number of Preemptions	11
Number of Preemptions for other than Breaking News	11
Number of Preemptions Rescheduled	11
Length of Program	30 mins
Age of Target Child Audience	13 years to 16 years
Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	This program chooses a region, special adaptations animals have made, or a specific animal, and uses a top ten countdown. From a safari in Botswana, to a dude ranch in Montana, to a retirement home for horses, Jack counts down 10 incredible experiences. He also explores wild and rare animals in Australia such as dingoes, devils and cassowaries. For animal adaptation, Jack travels from the Arctic to the desert, picking ten animals that have made special adaptations to survive in the harsh environment. This program informs the viewer about animals and their habitat, which can lead the viewer to discussions regarding the environment and conservation. This program airs on the station's main digital stream.
Does the Licensee identify the program by displaying throughout the program the symbol E/I?	Yes

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	During this quarter KATU supported the educational and informational needs of children through the launch of a multi-platform campaign, on-air news stories, local programming, and digital information. In November, KATU launched a multi-platform campaign to promote kindness among youth, their families and the community, called Kind is Better. The station featured news stories on youth mental health and dedicated an entire AM Northwest and Afternoon Live program to discuss youth mental health and ways other children and adults can respond to hard situations with kindness. This was also supported with on-air PSAs and vignettes featuring kids of varying ages saying what they will do to be kind to others and themselves. Also this quarter, KATU's Family Matters campaign promoted Providence Festival of Trees benefiting Providence Newborn Services. The campaign also supported Salvation Army Angel Trees which gathered and distributed donated toys and gifts for children and less fortunate families in the community. The station also participated in Sinclair Cares initiative with news stories and promos regarding children's toy safety.
