Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	A news program produced for kids, by kids. Seeing news through the eyes of children, which puts a whole new perspective on what's really important to kids. Hosted by a diverse news team made up of young "journalists" reporting from a professional news set, the diverse news anchor team appeals to kids who want to identify and emulate them. The program also will give students a clear voice in the adult-dominated media and provide a unique perspective to the news. The lead story each week takes a kid-sensitive approach to a serious news topic such as terrorism, bullying and cliques, and the alarming increase of diabetes in children. Other segments will include At the Movies: Superstars and Kids on the Street. Another regular feature each week will come from "Children's Pressline," the international news service that has produced stories for the last 25 years to bring authentic voices of children and teens to opinion leaders, policymakers and the general public. "Weekly Reader," the 101-year-old educational publisher, is contributing editorial support and script editing to make stories more age appropriate. "Weekly Reader" polls are a feature on the program as well as content for their magazines, which reach 11 million children. Teachers nationwide will be able to download the news scripts from Weekly Reader's website and use them to help students become better public speakers and writers. The target audience for the program is 13- to 16-year-old children, and is designed to appeal to the audience on its own level. The program serves the audience in a way that makes a real difference in their lives. Digital. NOTE: Program was preempted on 11 /17/13 due to "One Hand: An Egyptian Woman Explores Faith.:

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	The half-hour weekly series, Sea Rescue, features the rescue, rehabilitation and - in many instances- release back into the wild ocean wildlife. Produced for children ages 13-16, Sea Rescue offers educational and entertaining television by demonstrating the welfare and medical benefits that rescue and rehabilitation programs provide animals. Viewers will also learn that there's a reciprocal benefit: rescued animals provide valuable insight into their biology and ecology. This information adds to the pool of knowledge necessary to conserve threatened and endangered species. Each week, Sea Rescue will leave its audience inspired by the real-life stories of the featured animals and rescuers and with a fuller understanding of the rich array of sea life with which we share our planet. Program Title	Teen Kids News
Origination	Syndicated
Days/Times Program Regularly Scheduled	Saturday, 8:30-9:00am
Total times aired at regularly scheduled time	13
Length of Program	30 mins
Age of Target Child Audience from	13 years to 16 years
Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	A news program produced for kids, by kids. Seeing news through the eyes of children, which puts a whole new perspective on what's really important to kids. Hosted by a diverse news team made up of young "journalists" reporting from professional news set, the diverse news anchor team appeals to kids who want to identify and emulate them. The program also will give students a clear voice in the adult-dominated media and provide a unique perspective to the news. The lead story each week takes a kid-sensitive approach to a serious news topic such as terrorism, bullying and cliques, and the alarming increase of diabetes in children. Other segments will include At the Movies: Superstars and Kids on the Street. Another regular feature each week will come from "Children's Pressline," the international news service that has produced stories for the last 25 years to bring authentic voices of children and teens to opinion leaders, policymakers and the general public. "Weekly Reader," the 101-year-old educational publisher is contributing editorial support and script editing to make stories more age appropriate. "Weekly Reader" polls are a feature on the program as well as content for their magazines, which reach 11 million children. Teachers nationwide will be able to download the news scripts from Weekly Reader's website and use them to help students become better public speakers and writers. The target audience for the program is 13- to 16-year-old children, and is designed to appeal to the audience on its own level. The program serves the audience in a way that makes a real difference in their lives. Digital.
