Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	During this quarter, KATU supported the educational and informational needs of children through station sponsorships, on-air news local programming features, and station tours. In March, KATU and Jeopardy partnered together to bring Classroom Jeopardy to Friends of the Children, a mentoring program which helps local at risk youth. Jeopardy Clew Crew member Kelly Miyahara visited Friends of the Children and the children learned educational trivia while having fun and working together in teams. KATU also participated in Parent 2 Parent segments within KATU News. Topics included college visits, kids' chores, shy teenagers, and sibling favoritism. In our "Kids Doing Good Stuff" segments on KATU morning news, we featured a Girl Scout working to raise money to get a protective vest for K-9 police units, a 15 year old student conducting a book drive to help a Vancouver Share Shelter and a group of middle school kids with an ice cream business which helps local charitable organizations. KATU news also featured stories focused on children's topics, including lunch boxes that keep food in the health safety zone, stranger danger and bug infested toys. These stories were supported by promotional announcements. Along with on-air programming, KATU also conducted 27 group tours during 1st quarter totaling about 300 kids. These group tours have included elementary schools, girl scouts, preschools, middle schools, homeschools, and high school transition classes.
