Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	This is a weekly half-hour series that explores the genesis of - and reasons behind - cultural events that permeate our everyday lives. Developed and produced for viewers 13 - 16, Nzinga Blake opens each episode from her virtual reality set with a list of what's trending on search engines that week. She will analyze and answer the questions that shape our society - using the power and the speed of the internet and user-generated questions and content. Experts in pop culture will join in adding insight and historical perspective. Viewers will come away with a week's worth of "aha" moments to share with their friends and family.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	This is a musical variety show that is driven by three siblings, empowering children to accomplish their goals and their dreams. This is accomplished through interviewing people who excel in their profession and have a positive message for kids, introducing guests who perform different genres of music, and presenting musical performances by the cast members themselves. These cast musical performances show children they can write their own music and the importance of teamwork. Music on the show is produced by Emmy Award winner David Barrett. He and Brian Brill (another Emmy winner) ensure that the music is tailored for the young audience. All songs offer a positive message about life. Every episode begins with the song "Sweet Company" which sends the positive message of friendship and ends with the singing of "End of Another Day" which encourages the viewer to stay optimistic about tomorrow.

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	STATION TOURS of KGTV are offered to children of all ages - from Scout groups eager to learn about the television business to high school students interested in Broadcasting and Journalism careers. Kids get an extensive tour of the station, have an opportunity to get in front of the camera and even watch a live newscast. 10LEADERSHIP AWARDS are presented to community leaders who have founded non-profit organizations or have been instrumental in organizing projects and fundraisers in San Diego. During the First Quarter of 2012, one of our recipients established a non-profit program called Voices for Children. This program is dedicated to providing court advocacy and mentoring to abused, neglected and other at-risk foster children. The children receive guidance and encouragement during the difficult journey through the foster care system. Another recipient formed a non-profit called Hunger2Help. Their goal is to provide food and comfort to the homeless of San Diego. Thirteen 13-year-old boys are helping to raise money and deliver food to the homeless. After due review of internal station records and documentation provided to us by program suppliers, the licensee hereby certifies as follows: (1) the only programs specifically designed for children twelve and under that the station broadcast this quarter are disclosed in this report and (2) the licensee fully complied with the FCC's commercial limits, as specified at 47 C.F.R. Section 73.670, with respect to these programs. KGTV has terminated analog operations. Therefore questions 7(b) and 7(c) no longer are applicable.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	The half-hour weekly series, Sea Rescue, features the rescue, rehabilitation and - in many instances - release back into the wild of ocean wildlife. Sea Rescue offers educational and entertaining television by demonstrating the welfare and medical benefits that rescue and rehabilitation programs provide animals. Viewers will also learn that there's a reciprocal benefit: rescued animals provide valuable insight into their biology and ecology. This information adds to the pool of knowledge necessary to conserve threatened and endangered species. Each week, Sea Rescue will leave its audience inspired by the real-life stories of the featured animals and rescuers and with a fuller understanding of the rich array of sea life with which we share our planet.
