The quiet time, always turns into a discussion that results in a dream-like adventure to solve a problem, such as overcoming shyness, making a new friend, or dealing with a bully. The adventure takes place in several nighttime dream locales where special friends help them work through the socio-emotional problem of the day. Specific approaches to managing the problem are demonstrated and practiced during the adventure, and the children return home confident, getting ample rest for today and facing their issues tomorrow.

Noodle and Doodle is an instructional series that features creating art projects and cooking projects around a specific theme. The show is hosted by Sean, who drives around in a double-decker bus fully equipped with art supplies, and a kitchen, all ready for any assignment. The projects encourage parent engagement and often feature families working together to make something for display in the child's home. Sean is accompanied by Doggity, an every-faithful Beagle dog, who transforms into an animated character during interstitial trips to a parallel universe and kitchen full of prank playing animated characters. While the show will be enjoyed by preschoolers, the projects are very practical and engaging to implement for children ages 5-8. The art projects typically feature lessons on recycling materials for re-use in making art and always demonstrate that creativity can transform something intended for one purpose into something useful to achieve a completely different goal.

Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Chica is a five-year-old chick who spends her days with her parents in their costume shop, the Coop. In each episode Chica develops or encounters a problem that she cannot immediately resolve. Usually her issues involve impulse control, distractibility, judgment, and inter-personal behaviors. She and Kelly usually work on the problem through an adventure-a fantasy transformation to animation-- where Bunji and Stitches come alive and join Chica and Kelly for the problem solving process. The core educational content is primarily socio-emotional development, and Chica learns how to express herself properly, think before she acts, and interact with others effectively. She often learns that it takes hard work and practice to become proficient at different skills.

WNYT-TV WNYT-TV - Children's Report WNYT-TV - Children's Report First Quarter- January 2013 Bad Flu Season- January 3, 2013 - 6:00 pm - 11:00 pm, January 4, 2013- 12:00 pm - 11:00 pm The Health Department is reporting one child has died from the Influenza virus. It is also reporting 638 people were admitted to the hospital or diagnosed in the hospital with the flu this week which is up 46 percent from last week. Sesame Street Brain - January 4, 2013 - 12:00 pm According to a new study, Big Bird and his friends on Sesame Street are doing more than teaching your kids ABC's or 123's. Researchers had 27 children and 20 adults watch Sesame Street while undergoing a functional MRI scan and found that children whose brain activity resembled that of adults scored better on math and verbal tests. Researchers put together a map of the brain as it grows and develops. It gives them an option other than written tests for assessing IQ. Colombia Bulletproof Clothes - January 5, 2013- 8:00 am A South American businessman says he plans to begin exporting bulletproof clothing for children to the United States. It's been making bulletproof clothing for people in high-risk situations for two decades. He also says he never considered making protective clothing for children before the school massacre that left 20 children dead. His items now include a child-sized bulletproof vest that's attached to a bulletproof backpack. Several companies in the United States that make armored backpacks also reported large spikes in sales and interest after the Newtown shootings. Dr. Diane Tenenbaum- January 9, 2013 - 12:00 pm A new study finds baby's who spend a lot of time in front of the television are fussier than babies who don't. While it's not clear if they were fussier to begin with, experts say kid's screen time should be limited. Education Cuomo- January 9, 2013 - 5:00 pm Education was another area where the governor of New York State was calling for a number of changes. He wants to write a whole new chapter in education, starting with a longer school day. If districts don't want longer days, the governor says they could extend the school year, reducing the length of summer and other vacations. He says districts should decide and the state will pay for the additional costs. The governor is also pushing for full day education for all kids and he says schools need to attract teachers who are better qualified. He says those who become Master teachers should receive education bonuses. BPA Effect - January 9, 2013 - 5:00 pm- January 10, 2013- 5:00 am- 5:30am According to researchers, exposure to BPA could lead to kidney and heart problems. They studied kids and teens and found those with the highest amounts of BPA in their urine, were more likely to have the potential for kidney impairment and a future risk for heart disease. BPA is a chemical that mimics estrogen when it gets into the body. Many experts say it could affect a child's development. It's found in many aluminum cans, plastic bottles and even thermal receipts, like those you get from gas stations. Flu Clinic - January 13, 2013 - 8:00 am The Governor has issued an executive order which allows pharmacists who are usually only allowed to give flu shots to people 18 years of age or older, to give them to children as young as six months. Across the country nearly 130 million doses of flu vaccine were distributed this year. At least 112 million have been used. 29 kids across the country have died from the flu so far this year. Alternative Medicine- January 14, 2013 - 5:00 am The use of alternative medicines is increasing among children, especially those with chronic conditions. A Canadian study finds almost half of patients are using alternative therapies with prescription

Noodle and Doodle is an instructional series that features creating art projects and cooking projects around a specific theme. The show is hosted by Sean, who drives around in a double-decker bus fully equipped with art supplies, and a kitchen, all ready for any assignment. The projects encourage parent engagement and often feature families working together to make something for display in the child's home. Sean is accompanied by Doggity, an every-faithful Beagle dog, who transforms into an animated character during interstitial trips to a parallel universe and kitchen full of prank playing animated characters. While the show will be enjoyed by preschoolers, the projects are very practical and engaging to implement for children ages 5-8. The art projects typically feature lessons on recycling materials for re-use in making art and always demonstrate that creativity can transform something intended for one purpose into something useful to achieve a completely different goal.

Total times aired at regularly scheduled time	13
Length of Program	30 mins
Age of Target Child Audience from	2 years to 5 years
