Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	Supported by a team of Georgia Aquarium biologists, veterinarians and other experts, Jeff Corwin travels the world to explore the Earth's least understood resource, our oceans and waterways and the animals which call them home. He swims with manta rays pointing out that their body form was the inspiration for the design of the stealth jet. While in the water with whale sharks, he takes samples of their blood to better understand their biology. As Jeff continues his journey through each episode, the viewer is able to connect with these animals and learn how important they are to all life on the planet as well as how sea life connects to life on the rest of the globe. Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F. R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	Access Minnesota is a half hour public affairs television show featuring noted academics, authors, politicians and business leaders engaging in common sense conversations about compelling and relevant issues in the state of Minnesota, across the nation, and around the globe. - produced by the MN Broadcasters Association from the University of Minnesota, post-production by The CW Twin Cities. This program aired on Saturdays, April 4th, May 2nd and June 6th at 5am. WUCW produces a weekly program called Our Issues, which aired Sundays, April 5th through June 28th at 11am. This program addresses a range of community issues with interviews between community leaders and every day people. The CW23 recently spent an afternoon mentoring a group of three young people just getting started in the broadcast industry. These three young people all came to us from Katz Television, where they work with local TV stations from around the country by coordinating the sale and fulfillment of commercial orders. The group spent time with at least one member of each department, with a focus on better understanding how this industry adds value to our clients and the community. WUCW added a part-time intern to our staff for the summer. Kyla Westermen helped with marketing, promotions, and production. Our production team has been teaching her how to plan a shoot, operate production equipment, edit video, and prepare material for broadcast. This intern, whom will be graduating from the University of Wisconsin next year, has also been given valuable experience working on a team and meeting tight deadlines. WUCW aired the following public service announcements geared towards children/teens: NAB: Mental Health, Ad Council: Lil Brown Bag (lunch), Drug Free America: Damage Circuits, Ronnie, Chelsea (anti-drug campaign for teens), Shriner's Kelsey Grammer and James Blake, Sinclair: Love is Louder, San Diego Zoo: Endangered Species, ADA Clean Teeth and U-Toob Dudley, World Wild Life, Speak Up Minneapolis (tell an adult when something is wrong), YMCA: Exercise equals healthy lifestyle, Clean Hands, CTIA: Don't Text and Drive, Helping Hands, Better Life and Ad Council: Obesity Prevention, America's Navy Science Fair, SAMHSA Underage Drinking.
